LAW REPORT.

SUPREME COURT.—THURSDAY, APRIL 2.
In Equity.—(Before his Honor the PRIMARY JUDGE.)

LION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY V. NEILD.

Mr. Owen (Mr. Lingen with him), instructed by Messrs. Norton and Company, appeared to move ex parte for an attachment against the defendant for non-compliance with the order of the Court, dated 20th March, that the books and papers in the possession of the defendant should be delivered on Monday, the 23rd. He suggested that the attachment should issue, with instructions that it should lie in the Master's Office for a week.

There was also an adjourned motion as to the other matters of complaint in the original motion, such as the painting out of the name of the plaintiff company from over defendant's office.

Mr. Salomons, who appeared with Mr. Walker, instructed by Messrs. Gannon and M'Laughlin, upon the injunction motion, said the defendant agreed to take the name down, though the cost should be plaintiff's.

It was agreed that the attachment should lie in the office till Tuesday week, to enable the defendant to show cause.

FERGUSON V. YORKE.

Mr. A. H. Simpson moved for leave to make entry of defendant's default of appearance.

His HONOR said he would make the order in this case, but in future he would require a certificate from the Master's Office that no defence had been filed. The same course should be followed in every case where information is required as to papers. He thought it extremely undesirable that whenever papers had to be looked up the solicitor's clerks and others should be allowed to go through the records, and state the result of their search.

RUBIE AND OTHERS V. O'CONNOR.

Mr. Knox moved for substituted service of the claim upon the defendant. The suit is one for removal of a trustee.

His HONOR ordered service to be made upon defendant's wife with one month for appearance.

SMITH V. CLARK.

Dr. Donovan appeared to move that the injunction which he obtained last week restraining the defendant from dealing with certain property at the North Shore, should be continued till the hearing. Dr. Sly appeared on behalf of the defendant, to consent.

His HONOR made the order required upon the usual undertaking.

SATWELL V. JAMES.

Mr. Coffee moved for leave to make an entry of the defendant's default to enter an appearance. There was an affidavit of service.

Order as prayed.

REDMAN V. FALSTEDT.

Mr. W. G. Walker appeared to move for an injunction restraining Sir G. W. Allen, as trustee, from paying over any of the share of Adelaide Falstedt, under the will of her former husband William Redman, to Charles Albert Falstedt until further order of the Court. The plaintiffs had a charge against Mrs. Falstedt's share of £600 or £700 for costs in the suit Redman v. Redman, and this claim Mrs. Falstedt had attempted to defeat by a settlement which was made on the day before her marriage, which ceremony took place between the finding of the jury and the order of judgment.

Dr. Donovan appeared on behalf of Sir G. W. Allen. He applied for costs of a similar motion brought forward in November last, which had been abandoned.

His HONOR said he would allow the injunction to go to the extent of £1000. He could not deal with the costs of the abandoned motion, because he had not the facts before him. The injunction would go upon the usual undertaking as to damages.

HALLEN AND OTHERS V. RATTRAY.

This was a suit for the removal of the defendant from his trust. Mr. Gordon, Q.C., stated that Mr. Rattray was quite willing to retire, and he merely asked that he be directed to hand over all documents to the new trustees. The books were ordered to be forthcoming if the accounts are disputed. His HONOR made a decree by consent, all costs being reserved. He appointed Messrs. Bettington and M'Kenzie trustees, subject to a proper affidavit of fitness.

SPARKE V. BLANTON.

Mr. Knox moved for a decree in this suit for the removal of the defendant from his office as trustee. It appeared that leave had been given to make an entry of default of appearance, but it appeared that the cause was not entered for hearing within 14 days, as required by the rules.

His HONOR, in making the decree, said that the defendant was so completely in default that he saw no difficulty as to the time of filing notice for hearing. He believed the word "within" had been inserted in the rule by mistake. He had no doubt that the warning that was given to a defendant was intended to be operative. The defendant was restrained from acting as an executor and removed from his trust, besides being ordered to pay costs.

BOWEN V. STEPHENS.

Mr. Walker, instructed by Messrs. Daintrey and Jones, moved for a decree in this suit, in which the defendant had failed to enter an appearance. The suit was for specific performance of a contract made in September to sell three allotments of land at Orange.

Decree, as asked, with costs.

IN RE JOHN A. GOODEN'S WILL.

On the motion of Mr. A. G. Ralston, an order to vest the legal estate of certain land at Newtown in the trustees of the late John A. Gooden was granted.

In the report of the case Waller and others v. Gipps, heard in Equity, before his Honor the Primary Judge, which appeared in our issues of Tuesday and Saturday last, it is stated that the defendant's counsel were instructed by Mr. Fitzhardinge. This was an error, as no Mr. Fitzhardinge, we are informed, appeared in or was concerned in the case.

INSOLVENCY COURT.—THURSDAY.
(Before the CHIEF COMMISSIONER.)

CERTIFICATE MEETING.

In the matter of Charles John Hawkins. His Honor intimated that judgment on the application for a certificate in the above case would be delivered on Tuesday next.

MOTION FOR COMPULSORY SEQUESTRATION.

In the matter of A. M'Arthur and Co. v. Richard Heaton. This was an adjourned hearing of an order nisi granted on the 18th February. The order was made absolute, and respondent was ordered to file schedule and statement within 10 days after service of notice.

MOTION TO SET ASIDE ORDER NISI.

In the matter of Mary Rose Norman. This was an application made by Dr. Sly on behalf of Mr. Bridson for an order nisi to set aside the order for sequestration, on the ground that respondent was a married woman. The application was granted, and the order nisi was made returnable on the 16th instant. The second meeting in the same matter was further postponed until the 16th instant.

ESTATES IN ARREAR.

Official assignees are to be heard as to estates in arrear on the 9th instant.

RATIFICATION OF DIRECTIONS.

In the matter of John William Wiley. The directions of creditors were ratified.

SURRENDERS.

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.—THURSDAY.
(Before Mr. District Court Judge WILKINSON.)

ROGALSKY V. MUDDLE.

This was an action to recover £77 14s. on overdue promissory notes. Verdict for the plaintiff.

ROSENFELD V. BOURNE.

This was a similar action, the amount involved being £21 9s. Verdict for the plaintiff.

FOWLER V. BARTROP.

The plaintiff in this case sought to recover £53 6s. 6d. for work and labour done and money lent. Verdict and costs.

MATTHEWS V. LUDWIG.

This was an action for assault and damages. Mr. A. A. Shorter for the plaintiff, and Mr. King for the defendant. The plaintiff stated that the defendant assaulted him when he asked him for the payment of some money due, and in the scuffle which ensued the plaintiff's watch was damaged and he lost from his collar a diamond stud, for which he claimed £9 damages. Mr. Shorter quoted Glover v. The London and S.W.R. Company, L.R. III., Q.B.D. p. 25, to show that a man may sue for loss incurred through assault. In the case mentioned the plaintiff was ejected from a railway carriage, and left behind him his race glasses, valued at £7 7s. The plaintiff recovered 20s. for the assault, and leave was given to apply for a rule to increase the verdict by the value of the glasses. The rule was obtained accordingly, on the ground that the loss of the glasses was the direct consequence of the illegal action of the defendant's, and it was argued before the judges. Chief Justice Cockburn said that the defendant had only himself to blame for leaving the glasses in the carriage, but in his opinion the case would be different if the glasses had fallen from the plaintiff's person, as the immediate result of any violence offered him. Judge Lush said "If a watch or purse had been shaken from the person of a passenger in wrongfully removing him, might not the loss be treated as the natural consequence of the wrongful act?" His HONOR gave the plaintiff damages, one farthing, without costs.

The Court then adjourned.

CENTRAL CRIMINAL COURT.—THURSDAY.
(Before his Honor the CHIEF JUSTICE.)

Mr. W. J. Foster and Mr. Gibson prosecuted on behalf of the Crown.

SENTENCES.

The prisoners John Fox, John Donohoe, Jeremiah Sullivan, John Jones, James Kelly, Walter Burns, and Michael Healey, who had been convicted the previous day upon an indictment charging them with having taken part in the riot which was created at Bondi on Boxing Day, were placed in the dock for sentence. His Honor, addressing the prisoners, said: You, John Fox, John Donohoe, Jeremiah Sullivan, James Kelly, Walter Burns, and Michael Healey, have each been found [illegible] a riot, and you, John Jones, have pleaded [illegible]ation charging you with the same crime. [illegible] others besides you seven were concerned in the [illegible] this offence was clearly proved, but unfortunately those others have for the present escaped detection. As there is no period of limitation fixed during which alone a prosecution for a criminal offence can be instituted, the persons who have so escaped may yet be proceeded against, and punished should they be discovered. There is reason to believe that all of you, with many other young men equally ill-disposed, have banded together for the purpose of creating disorder, and inspiring terror amongst the peaceful portion of the community. Relying upon their numbers, these organised gangs have apparently come to the conclusion that they are strong enough to set the authorities at defiance. In this you, and others like you, are mistaken. Society is fully able to protect itself against such conduct as that which has brought you into your present trouble. At present no special increase of the police force has been thought necessary for the protection of the public; but such increase will doubtless take place should the occasion demand it. For your own sakes, as well as for others, it is fitting that you should undergo a severe sentence. It is not to be tolerated in a civilised community that a gang such as that to which you belong should be allowed to commit an outrage so gross, and I may add so cowardly also, as that of which you have been guilty. The sentence of the Court is that you, John Fox, John Donohoe, Jeremiah Sullivan, and Walter Burns, be each imprisoned and kept to hard labour in the gaol at Darlinghurst for the period of two years. As to you, James Kelly, Michael Healey, and John Jones, who are now under a sentence of penal servitude for eight years for wounding a policeman during this riot, I do not think that any additional punishment is called for. I sentence you, however, like the others, to two years' imprisonment with hard labour, but such imprisonment will commence at the same time as the sentence of penal servitude which you are now undergoing.

The prisoners were then removed from the dock.

THE BOURKE-STREET ABORTION CASE.

Evan Thomas was arraigned upon the charge of having, at Sydney, on the 27th of September, 1884, unlawfully administered and caused to have been taken by one Ada Hughes a large quantity, to wit, two ounces, of a drug, with intent thereby to procure a miscarriage; also with having unlawfully supplied a large quantity, to wit, two ounces, of a drug, well knowing the same was intended to be unlawfully used with intent to procure a miscarriage.

The prisoner was acquitted.

This concluded the business of the session, and the Court adjourned sine die.

POLICE.

Mr. Addison, S.M., presided in the Charge Division of the WATER POLICE COURT yesterday, and dealt with a number of cases. Several individuals were fined for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. John Vincent was sent to prison for a month for stealing a cockatoo, belonging to Annie Long, of 122, Riley-street. Sarah Manning was fined £3, or two months to gaol, for using obscene language in Crown-street. The same prisoner was further charged with maliciously breaking a fanlight, value £3, the property of Henry Bivsen, of City Arms Hotel, Stanley-street. She was ordered to pay the damage, £3, and fined 20s., in default of payment to go to gaol for two months; both sentences to be cumulative. William Perrin was fined 20s., or seven days to gaol, for indulging in a game known as "heading 'em" in Bourke-street, to the annoyance of the passers-by. James Shortall was fined 40s., or a month's imprisonment, for using indecent language in Day's-terrace, off Kent-street. Richard Carter was sent to gaol for a month with hard labour for having been thrice convicted of drunkenness within the preceding 12 months, and behaving in a riotous manner in George-street. Mr. Leopold Yates, D.S.M., sat in the Summons division, and disposed of a large number of cases. Mr. Addison, S.M., presided in the Licensing Court. On taking his seat his worship stated that he would not take any objected cases, on account of there being no other magistrate on the bench. The cases objected to were thereupon postponed until Thursday next. The following business was transacted:—Transfers: Charles Love to Matthew King, for the Manaro Hotel, Forbes-street; M. King to S. Austin, for the Hand of Friendship Hotel, Marshall-street; Margaret Reinhard to Charles Gray, for the Rose, Shamrock, and Thistle Hotel, Oxford-street, Paddington; J. Bourke to Mary Ann M'Loughlin, for the General Washington Hotel, George-street; Ferdinand Brault to Nicholas St. Drizler, colonial wine license. A billiard license was granted to Jean Boyer. Booth licenses were granted to E. D. Tollemache, H. Davis, James B. Currie, J. H. Ferguson, J. C. Dunlop, C. Moore, J. M'Grath, W. Forster, J. L. Crimp, P. M. Tully. Music permits were granted to W. F. Edmunds, W. M'Combie, W. Walpole (2), J. H. Ferguson (2), and W. F. Dind. Auctioneers' special licenses were granted to A. G. Mackenzie and E. Gray. A packet license was granted to R. Jamieson. A. Groff was granted a pawnbroker's license. Hawkers' licenses were granted to a number of Chinamen and others.

Mr. Mearss, D.S.M., disposed of the Charge cases at the CENTRAL POLICE COURT yesterday. Mary Jane Cunningham was fined £3, or two months, for having maliciously damaged two panes of glass, the property of Samuel Francis Bolger. Kate M'Donald, 20, and Sarah Armstrong alias Anslow, 18, were each sentenced to a month's hard labour for wandering in the streets without lawful occupation. James Lacey, 35, was sent to gaol for a month, for stealing a pair of boots from Richard William O'Brien. Charles Longstreet, a book canvasser, pleaded guilty to having illegally pawned books belonging to William Dobel and Messrs. Simpson and Ramsay, and was sentenced to six months' hard labour. Daniel Teeham, 15, found loitering about the streets, was ordered aboard the training-ship Vernon. A powerfully built young labourer, named Thomas King or Cane, was charged, on remand, with having inflicted grievous bodily harm upon Constable Allan Gillespie, on March 23rd. Prosecutor deposed that he had been sent for to arrest a prisoner for an assault upon a man named Daniel Flaherty, in the bar of the Old Duke of Wellington Hotel, Lower George-street. Prisoner refused to be taken into custody, and a tussle ensued, in the course of which both fell. Prisoner got uppermost and dragged the constable over by his right arm, trying to reach his handcuffs, in doing which Gillespie's right shoulder was dislocated so severely that he was still unable to use the arm. Dr. Upjohn, house surgeon at the Sydney Infirmary, certified to the injuries, which he considered must have been caused by very great violence, and would probably render the constable unfit for duty for several more months. Prisoner was committed for trial, the Bench considering, despite a strong address by Mr. Williamson, that a prima facie case had been established. On the Summons side Mr. T. K. Abbott, S.M., presided. A man named Lewis, for having quitted a tram-car without payment of his fare, was fined £2, and £1 7s. 6d. cost, in default a month in gaol. A warrant was ordered to issue for the arrest of Joseph Wilson, who failed to appear in answer to a charge of having deserted his wife, Louisa Wilson.

At the POLICE COURT, Newtown, before Mr. O'Malley Clarke, S.M., Edward Rossiter pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelly ill-treating a horse in King-street, Newtown, on the 1st instant, and was fined 20s., or seven days. The horse, which defendant was working in harness, had a large open sore on the right shoulder. John Woodcock, William Woodcock, Mary Holley, Alice Doyle, James Hayden, and Charles Woodcock were each fined 5s., and 2s. 6d. costs, for suffering animals to stray. M. Garside, of Enmore-road, was fined 20s., and costs 2s. 6d., for keeping swine in his yard, which is within 40 yards of the road. Henry Bisden, of Canterbury, was fined 40s., with 2s. 6d. costs, levy and distress, or 14 days, for driving a cart with nightsoil on Burwood-road, Canterbury, at 20 minutes past 7 a.m. on the 20th day of March last. James Calwelp, for furiously driving three horses attached to an omnibus, in King-street, Newtown, on the 9th of March last, was fined 20s., with 2s. 6d. costs, levy and distress, or seven days. This was a case of rival 'bus-drivers. Thomas Treeves, of Burwood, was fined 20s. or seven days for riotous behaviour in Burwood-road on the 21st March last. Wallace Bain, for being drunk and disorderly in Burwood-road, was fined 10s., with 4s. 10d. costs, or two days. Charles Farrell consented to an order for the support of his wife, Sarah Farrell—viz., £1 per week for 12 months; he was further ordered to pay 5s. 10d. and 21s. for costs; and Terence Smith also consented to an order for the support of his wife, Frances Smith, of Newtown—viz., 14s. a week for 12 months; he was ordered to pay 5s. 10d. costs. Two cases—William Henry Gill, of Leichhardt, against F. Cavill for breaches of the Impounding Act—were dismissed, with one guinea costs. Mr. Godfrey appeared for complainant, and Mr. William Roberts, sen., for defendant.

At the ST. LEONARDS POLICE COURT on Tuesday, before Mr. W. Johnson, D.S.M., Edward Thew, carter in the employ of Thomas Cosgrove, baker, of St. Leonards, pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelly ill-treating a horse, and was fined 20s. and costs, 7s., or seven days' imprisonment. Thomas Cosgrove was convicted of unlawfully obstructing a constable acting under the Act for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and fined 40s. and 4s. 10d. costs, or 14 days' imprisonment. George Alsop, for using profane language in Ridge-street, was fined 20s. and 4s. 10d. costs, or seven days' in gaol. Daniel Pierson, for allowing his heifer to stray in Blue's Point-road, was fined 5s. and costs, 2s. 6d., levy and distress, or two days' imprisonment. Susannah B. S. Schoefield, for allowing two horses to stray in the public streets in the borough of Victoria, was fined 10s and 4s. 10d. costs, levy and distress, or four days' imprisonment. John Harding, for allowing a cow, and George Pierson, for allowing a heifer to stray in the same borough, were each fined 5s. and 4s. 10d. costs, levy and distress, or two days' imprisonment. William Brooks, for casting a dead horse near Palmer-street, in the borough of St. Leonards, was fined 40s. and 14s. 10d. costs, or 14 days' imprisonment. Yesterday, before the same D.S.M., John M'Shane, convicted of furious riding at Stoney Creek-road, Lane Cove, on March 17, was fined £2 with 9s. 6d. costs of court, £2 2s. professional costs, and 10s. expenses of two witnesses, levy and distress, or one month's imprisonment. John Norris, jun., brought up on warrant for disobeying a summons for wife desertion: an order was made for 15s. per week for 12 months, first payment to be made on Tuesday, 7th instant, at St. Leonards police-station, with 8s. 4d. costs. Amelia Mackaness, for keeping her butcher's shop open on Sunday, 29th ultimo, for the sale of meat, was fined 20s., and costs 4s. 10d., levy and distress, or seven days' imprisonment. Several small debt cases were disposed of, and a hawker's license was granted to W. H. Stephenson, draper, of Lane Cove-road.

At the PARRAMATTA POLICE COURT, before Messrs. H. Byrnes and N. Stewart, J.P.'s, William Henry Cosier was charged, on remand from the Melbourne and Parramatta Benches, with embezzlement. Owing to the absence of a material witness the case was further remanded for a week. George Johnson pleaded guilty to a charge of using abusive language at the Fairfield railway station, and was fined £5 and costs, with the option of 24 hours' imprisonment. The Bench remarked that they did not consider the defendant should have been prosecuted, but as he had pleaded guilty they had no alternative but to fine him the minimum penalty provided by the railway by-laws.

MR. GLADSTONE on the ENGLISH-SPEAKING NATIONS.

Mr. G. W. Smalley sends to the New York Tribune the following interesting account of a conversation with Mr. Gladstone, and subjoins a letter which he subsequently received from the Premier. Mr. Smalley says:—

"There was a report in the papers of a meeting in favour of Imperial federation, and as we walked along the gallery to the breakfast-room Mr. Gladstone asked me what was thought in America of that project. I answered as well as I could, and finally said there was a matter in which we, I thought, were more directly and deeply interested, and that was the promotion of a good understanding among all English-speaking peoples the world over. 'Ah! there,' exclaimed Mr. Gladstone, 'I am heartily with you. The future of the world belongs to us—to us who are of the same blood and language—if we are true to ourselves and to our opportunities, not of conquest or aggression, but of commercial development and beneficent influence.' For a full account of Mr. Gladstone's opinions I refer the reader again to his letter, to which this is, perhaps, a needless preface. I have only to add that, thinking what he had said on these two subjects would interest Americans profoundly, I subsequently wrote to ask if I might repeat it. 'Yes,' was his answer, 'in such words and as publicly as you please;' and at the same time came the letter in which he restates his views on both subjects.

Mr. Gladstone's letter was as follows:—

"10, Downing-street, Whitehall, October 4, 1884.

"Dear Mr. Smalley,—I was unwilling to answer your letter hastily, and I therefore postponed writing for two or three days, but I find this does not in any degree relieve me from my dilemma. The first point raised by you is, indeed, one that can be briefly disposed of. When I first read in detail the 'Life of Washington,' I was profoundly impressed with the moral elevation and greatness of his character, and I found myself at a loss to name among the statesmen of any age or country many, or possibly any, who could be his rival. In saying this, I mean no disparagement to the class of politicians, the men of my own craft and cloth, whom in my own land, and my own experience, I have found no less worthy than other men of love and admiration. I could name among them those who seem to me to come near even to him. But I will shut out the last half century from the comparison. I will then say that if, among all the pedestals supplied by history for public characters of extraordinary nobility and purity, I saw one higher than all the rest, and if I were required at a moment's notice to name the fittest occupant for it, I think my choice, at any time during the last 45 years, would have lighted, and it would now light, upon Washington. The other subject is one on which I hardly like to touch in a few lines; for the prospect it opens to me is as vast as it is diversified, and it is so interesting as to be almost overwhelming. Mr. Barham Zincke, no incompetent calculator, reckons that the English-speaking peoples of the world a hundred years hence will probably count a thousand millions. Some French author, whose name I unfortunately forget, in a recent estimate, places them somewhat lower; at what precise figure I do not recollect, but it is like 600 or 800 millions. A century back I suppose they were not much, if at all, beyond 15 millions. I also suppose we may now take them at 100. These calculations are not so visionary as they may seem to some. They rest upon a rather wide induction, while the best thing they can pretend to is rough approximation. But, as I recollect, it was either Imlay, or one of those with whom the name of that creature is associated, that computed, a century back, the probable population of the American Union at this date, and placed it very nearly at the point where it now stands. What a prospect is that of very many hundreds of millions of people, certainly among the most manful and energetic in the world, occupying the great continent—I may almost say two, and other islands and territories not easy to be counted, with these islands at their head, the most historic in the world; in contact, by a vast commerce, with all mankind, and perhaps still united in kindly political association with some more hundreds of millions; fitted for no mean destiny, united almost absolutely in blood and language, and very largely in religion, laws, and institutions. If anticipations such as these are to be realised in any considerable degree, the prospect is at once majestic, inspiring, and consolatory. The subject is full of meaning and of power; of so much meaning that the pupil of the eye requires time to let in such a flood of light. I shall not attempt after thus sketching it to expound it. It would be as absurd as if a boxkeeper at a theatre, when letting in a party, should attempt to expound the piece. I hope that some person more competent and less engaged than myself will give this subject the study it deserves, taking his stand on the facts of the last century, and the promise, caveat quantum, of the coming one. I cannot but think as well as hope that a good understanding, in the future near and far, among English-speaking peoples, though it may not be matter of certainty, yet is beyond the necessity of going a-begging, so to speak, for recommendations from any individual, earnestly and with my whole heart as I, for one, should recommend it. Clearly, if the English-speaking peoples shall then be anything like what we have now been supposing, and if there shall not be a good understanding among them, there will have been a base desertion of an easy duty, a gran rifiuto, such as might stir another Dante to denounce it, a renunciation of the noblest, the most beneficial, the most peaceful primacy ever presented to the heart and understanding of man. On the other hand, great as it would be, it would demand no propaganda, no superlative ingenuity or effort; it ought to be an orderly and natural growth, requiring only that you should be reasonably true and loyal to your traditions, and we to ours. To gain it will need no preterhuman strength or wisdom; to miss it will require some portentous degeneracy. Even were it a daydream it would be an improving one, loftier and better than that which prompted the verse,

> 'Super et Garamantas et Indos
> Proferet imperium; jacet extra sidera tellus,
> Extra anni solisque vias,' because it implies no strife or bloodshed, and is full only of the moral elements of strength.

"Believe me, dear Mr. Smalley, very faithfully yours,
"W. E. GLADSTONE."

The banks, insurance companies, and leading mercantile establishments will be closed from this evening until Tuesday morning, and no business will be done in the import markets.

In the Import markets to-day a moderately good trade was done. Distributing houses continue fairly busy with the execution of country orders, and there are indications that after the holidays a good business will be maintained. In flour, trade to-day was rather quiet; bakers' parcels sold at yesterday's rates. At their grain sale Messrs. Mort and Co. disposed of wheat at from 2s. 11d. to 3s. 6½d. per bushel. The deliveries by rail from the country this week amounted to 312 tons wheat and 280 tons flour. The arrivals from intercolonial ports have been unusually heavy, reaching 500 tons of wheat, and 2170 tons of flour. About 200 tons flour was transhipped to Queensland. Some further sales of tea have been made to speculative purchasers, who have this week taken up about 3000 half-chests, mostly common grades, at 8d. to 8½d. per lb. Importers' position will be strengthened by advices to-day by way of Melbourne to the effect that the Imperial authorities in China have increased the inland duties on tea, with a view, as it is said, of meeting the expenses of the war. In sugar, the trade is quiet. The sale is quoted of 30 tons of brewers' crystals at a price withheld. Liverpool coarse salt, to arrive, was done at 67s. 6d. A quantity of Lea and Perrins' sauce, for forward delivery, was quitted at 11s. 6d. Dairymaid milk was done at 6s. 9d. to 7s., the latter for trade parcels. Gouda candles to arrive were sold at 8¾d., and D. R. J.'s at 8½d. A parcel of No. 1 cigars changed hands at current rates. In brewers' goods, scarcely any business was done, and quotations are unchanged. In liquors, holders of Hennessy's single star brandy are firm at 35s.; three star, 46s. 6d. There is a rather firmer feeling with respect to rum, the past three months' shipments having been unusually light, so that any great demand would probably stiffen rates at once; 3s. 8d. is still the nominal quotation for Lowndes'. A fair trade was done in whisky. Other spirits dull of sale. A shipment of Dagger stout taken for export at agents' prices. In metals, sales of Stork galvanised iron are mentioned at £20 5s. to £21, according to quantity. A large parcel of fencing wire, No. 8, was sold at £11 2s. 6d. Heavy sizes of Muntz metal scarce, holders asking to 7d., but offering at 6¾d. to arrive. Business in wire nails for forward delivery has been done at a shade under 15s. Oils are without change. Woolpacks, 11½lb. fast ends done at 1s. 11d. to 2s.; bran bags, 5s. 3d. to 5s. 6d. Hall's blasting powder on the spot, selling at 6¼d.

There being only a small attendance of buyers to-day, the tallow sales were postponed until next week. The hide catalogues, however, were submitted. There was brisk competition. Extra heavies maintained late rates, but other descriptions were scarcely so high. Messrs. F. L. Barker, John Bridge, Brunker and Wolfe, Mort and Co., Limited, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, and Hill, Clark, and Co. report sales at from 3d. to 3¾d. for light; 3¾d. to 4½d. for medium; and to 5½d. for extra heavy.

The following is a return of produce received at Darling Harbour station per rail for the week ended April 2:—

Wheat, 312 tons 16cwt. 3qr.; flour, 280 tons 16cwt.; oats, 5 tons 11cwt. 3qr.; barley, 1 ton 16cwt. 3qr.; maize, 1 ton 3cwt.; meal, 4cwt.; potatoes, 4 tons 1cwt.; bran, 43 tons 12cwt.; pollard, 18 tons 10cwt. 2qr.; hay, 129 trucks; straw, 37 trucks; chaff, 82 trucks; wool, 502 bales; sheepskins, 235 bales; 298 kegs and 202 cases of butter; 11 cases of cheese; 2 bags and 28 sides of bacon; 264 cases of eggs.

Reporting on the English markets on the 19th February, Messrs. N. F. Roberts state that on the 1st February the associated makers of stearine candles reduced their price by ⅛d. per lb. to 6¼d. In chemicals, cream of tartar was slightly easier, being quoted at 130s. 6d. per cwt. Tartaric acid was ½d. per lb. below last month—say, 1s. 7½d. per lb. Lump alum, in 3-cwt. casks, was obtainable at £5 17s. 6d., being a decline of 2s. 6d. per ton. Saltpetre was reduced 3d. to 6d. per cwt., and quoted at 22s. 6d. per cwt. Soda crystals had declined to £3 per ton f.o.b. Liverpool. Hardware had not shown the improvement which was anticipated when the markets re-opened in January. In galvanised iron there had been a very considerable decline during the month. Gospel Oak was still quoted at £16 10s., but Lysaght's Orb was reduced to £14 17s. 6d., and it was heard that even less had been accepted. Braby's had declined to £14 12s. 6d., Morewood's and other well-known brands were proportionately cheaper than in January. Some steps had been taken to make a stronger association in the galvanised iron trade, with the intention of raising prices, but as one or two of the largest makers seemed determined to hold themselves free, prices were likely to rule according to the competition amongst makers as hitherto, especially as the quality of different brands prevented a uniform price being obtainable. There was a reduction of 5s. per ton in the price of fencing wire. Wire nails had been slightly firmer, but prices were hardly likely to be supported. Sheet lead had again fallen, and could be bought at £11 7s. 6d. per ton. Linseed oil was slightly dearer, Blundell and Spence's double-boiled having advanced to 1s. 11½d., and raw to 1s. 8½d. per gallon, whilst colza had declined ½d.—to 2s. 4d. per gallon. White lead was a trifle easier on the month. In sugar very considerable trade had sprung up in shipment of pieces to the colonies, as well as of English and German crystallised, in consequence of the very low prices lately ruling. Useful white pieces at 10s. 6d. to 12s. had been rather largely purchased. Crystallised, at 15s. 6d. per cwt., had also gone forward. Dutch crushed had risen to 17s. 4½d. per cwt. for ASR, 17s. 4½d. for WSR, and 16s. 9d. for HR in barrels f. o. b. in Amsterdam. In dried fruits the scarcity of good quality had prevented any decline in price, but for inferior the market was weak. Valencia raisins were in such bad condition that they were quite useless for shipment to the colonies. Supplies of elemes from Smyrna had ceased, and stocks were being held in anticipation of a spring trade bringing about better prices.

The following is the Customs revenue for to-day:—

[illegible] £2794 12s. 9d.; wine (still), £145 11s. 9d.; ditto (spa[illegible]), £53 15s.; ale, porter, and beer (in wood), £16 7s.; ditto (in bottles), £357 8s. 6d.; tobacco and snuff, £72 15s.; cigars, £134 4s. 3d.; cigarettes, £17 16s. 3d.; tea, £221 9s.; coffee, 3s.; sugar (unrefined), £504 1s. 10d.; ditto (molasses), £3 2s. 2d.; dried fruits, £34 11s. 10d.; nuts, 4s. 8d.; hops, £228 0s. 3d.; specific duty, £1116 11s. 10d.; harbour and light rates, £1 1s. 8d.; pilotage (Sydney), £42 14s.; ditto (out ports), £19 10s.; harbour dues, £12; colonial distilled spirits, £200; fisheries royalty, £6: total, £5982 0s. 9d.

FAT STOCK MARKET.

At the Homebush fat stock sales to-day 563 head of cattle were yarded. The market showed an improvement of 10s. per head. The best lot of bullocks averaged £10 6s. 4d.; medium, £8 11s. 6d.; and inferior from £6 4s. 9d. per head; cows at proportionate rates. 15,933 sheep were penned. The market opened dull, but prices rose about 1s. per head; at the close 54-lb. sheep worth 12s. The best lot of merino wethers sold at 12s. 11d. per head, others from 7s. per head; crossbred wethers at 11s. 10d. to 16s. 3d. per head; ewes at 5s. 11d. to 7s. 6d. per head. At the City Yards there was a good supply of fat calves forward, and prices ruled firm; prime qualities sold at 12s. 6d. to 76s. per head. The market for fat lambs was well supplied; sales made at 4s. 6d. to 12s. 9d. per head. Fat pigs 11s. to 66s. per head. The following sales were reported: By Messrs. Pitt, Son, and Badgery.—90 bullocks (F. A. Parbury) at £9, 7 steers (ditto) at £5 10s., 100 bullocks (C. M'Donnell) at £7 12s., 12 cows (ditto) £6 13s. The Sydney Morning Herald.

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1885.

Good Friday is the great day of the Christian year. Its record is the longest of those given in the Scriptures in regard to celebrated days, short as it may appear when compared with those of great events in modern times. With a fine perception of their significance, and with unstudied dramatic effect, men who believed what they wrote have described the meeting of the conspirators, the last Supper, the midnight arrest; the appearances before the Sanhedrim, before Pilate, and before Herod; the march to the place of execution; and the hasty burial. Each of these has since received special artistic treatment, and all combined have been made to present a tragedy unique in its character and its issues.

One memorial outcome of the death of Jesus is its anniversary. History informs us that this was observed at an early period of the Christian era. It was called the Passover of the Crucifixion. Hebrew Christians substituted it for the ancient festival observed at that season of the year. At once the new day was made to bear marks of resemblance to the old one; whilst certain acts, such as kneeling and kissing, were avoided because they had been used with indignity towards Jesus. The Church appointed for all time the sixth day of the week before Easter, which always places this fast on a Friday. It was called "Good Friday" in acknowledgment of the benefit supposed to be derived from the death of Jesus; and with unconscious irony early Saxon Christians, probably because of the length of its fast, called it "Long Friday." The day grew in its influence, if the events which it celebrated did not, as the ages advanced; and eventually it assumed a sacred character, carrying as much authority as the Christian Sabbath. Its due observance was compelled by law; and when this could not be effected, men were forbidden to pursue their ordinary vocations on the day. To maintain its interest, the Church has given attention from time out of mind to the performance of spectacular demonstrations, music, and ritual, so that even in this nineteenth century it is no slender grip which the day has on many minds. Others regard the day, not as imposing any obligation upon them, but as one which they may observe as commemorating events the occurrence of many of which cannot be denied, and whose significance is equally obvious even when they are made to bear the least weighty of the theories grounded upon them. The day has come again, and invites recognition in old lights, and in those aspects which latest authoritative and speculative teaching presents.

The increasing sensitiveness of public thought in these matters is one of the features of this age. And it will be observed that whilst there are still persons who coarsely assail everything that bears the name of Christian, increasing numbers reverently but fearlessly ask what was the original meaning of the words of Jesus, and at what value should the incidents of His life be appraised. This free entry upon domains supposed to be the peculiar heritage of a special class of teachers has given perhaps a more bitter offence than any assault upon received dogmas. One of the latest of these voices on this side the world is that of Mr. Hartley Williams, a Judge of the Supreme Court of Victoria. In his little book, "Religion without Superstition," he has lit upon an inoffensive title. For no man ever admitted that his religion was tainted with superstition, old or new. All types of the faithful will claim that Judge Williams has exactly designated their peculiar form of faith. But when they read his pages their eyes will be opened, for the author has described a faith of his own. But even Judge Williams spares holy days. Perhaps he regarded them as issues of forces which, being attacked and destroyed, naturally fall with all upon which they rested. Turning to his chapter on the subject of Good Friday, many of his readers will be disappointed. It bears the complex title of the "Atonement and the Advent." The author passes over the historic fact to attack the theories offered in its explanation. He is significantly silent about the day. To some extent he acts judiciously; but he has not gone far enough. If he went behind the day to seize the principle which gives it a form and name, he should have gone beyond the principle and dealt with the facts from which it was deduced. He undertakes to grapple with what he first calls "the fundamental doctrines of popular Christianity," and which he afterwards denounces as "mere crude superstitions." It may be remarked, in passing, that his theories on all subjects named in the scheme of his work are simply additional interpretations on matters which have engaged some of the ablest minds during the past eighteen hundred years. In his summary of the theories relating to Good Friday he is by no means exhaustive, nor is he remarkably exact. His own definition of an atonement is an admirable example of the difficulty of framing a definition not marred by some admission or omission fatal to its author's purpose. But the most disappointing feature of the case is that a mind acute and clear should almost utterly fail to see anything where many others equally penetrating and fearless have seen so much. The reader is left with a faulty and barren definition where a scientific treatment of admitted facts must have rewarded the search. One thing may be said ungrudgingly of Judge Williams' method. It assumes the observer to place himself as closely as possible before the phenomena to be examined. That is the true scientific method. It is strongly to be commended. Modern thought is every day gaining additional trend that way. A right observance of Good Friday affords encouragement to the condition of a true inquiry and analysis of its facts. Some great writers who have thrown off theological beliefs have nevertheless retained their reverence for the historic facts on which they are based. In writing to one of her friends George Eliot says: "All the great religions of the world, historically considered, are rightly the objects of deep reverence and sympathy. They are the record of spiritual struggles which are the types of our own. This is to me pre-eminently true of Hebrewism and Christianity, on which my own youth was nourished. And in this sense I have no antagonism towards any religious belief, but a strong outflow of sympathy. Every community met to worship the highest good, which is understood to be expressed by God, carries me along its main current." When all the theological clothes are taken off the historic facts of Christianity, what is left? A clear eye may see a life of remarkable purity, unselfishness, and devotion to duty. There may be seen a character of lofty conceptions, quenchless passion, and daring fidelity. It is the life of one who may be taken as a model; it is a mind whose moral quality may form a standard of excellence for all men and all times.

As an earnest of good work to be done, the Civil Service Board has published a "Civil Service List" for the current year. It is framed on lines which are not likely to be greatly altered in future, because they could hardly be more comprehensive and distinctive. The divisions are into "General," "Professional," "Educational," "Temporary," and all others who fall under clauses 7 and 8 of the Civil Service Act. It was not possible to work in with this arrangement the old departmental divisions, but all this is provided for in the column for "Offices." It is quite probable that whilst this list will form the model for a long time, there may be no small amount of trouble in regard to two of the divisions named. There is a list of more than eleven hundred persons said to be temporarily employed. These may be taken to supply by far the largest number of those who have been the subjects of a well-meant but not well-managed patronage. Many of them are professional men, some probably too old and others too young to enter the recognised ranks. Their place in this list suggests that they have been marked for slaughter. Will it be worth their while to wait for a chance to enter which may never come? And meanwhile in the larger world outside the Government service there is much more room. The Civil Service Board may have it in their power to do something for some of them, but it is gratifying to think that under its management of public appointments this uncertain class of employees will in the course of time disappear. There will be a severer struggle with those who are not classified to receive the stated increase of salary provided by the Act. Difficult as the work of the Board has been up to this point, there is a prospect of something more severe. Their hard work has been clerical, now it will be judicial. And it will require their best attention; for on the one hand the public revenue has to be guarded, and on the other Civil servants should receive their due. The Professional division will give least trouble, because entrance to its ranks is determined by technical fitness, and the list is not a long one. But in the General division the case will be far otherwise. Care will be required also because early decisions of the Board may acquire the weight of precedents. If there are many, and probably there are, who deem themselves unfairly used by this classification, the best course is the very natural one of stating their case to those who have it in their power to afford redress.

Public justice is not more than satisfied with the sentences passed upon the Bondi rioters. For one of the first duties of citizenship is the observance of good order. If people cannot, through fear of outrage, pursue business and lawful recreation, the machinery of society will be seriously retarded. And when assaults are made, not only on citizens, but also on those whose duty it is to see that all alike have fair play in public places, the danger is serious enough to call for severe measures. It must be kept in mind that this is more necessary in a free country like this than it is where traditional beliefs and customs come in to restrain popular demonstrations and to check the riotous hilarity which so frequently accompanies out-door amusements. If there are persons so far forgetful of what is due to themselves and to others, and who make it necessary to set up a vigilant oversight of them, and to punish them severely for their violation of the commonest social regulations, they should be the last to complain. The leaders of the larrikins who nearly killed Constable Stove, on Boxing Day, have received a sentence of eight years. They narrowly escaped committing murder, and therefore they came near to being hanged. The criminal intent must be fastened upon them, and the disgrace of having nearly committed a capital offence. The dishonour attaching to their present position should be admonitory to young men of similar dispositions and associations. Their companions, by a lucky accident, have not shared so severe a fate. It would be a relief to think that they would not, if left to themselves, have gone to the same extreme. But it is difficult to cherish that feeling. In the hurry of such a savage onset some one must be first. The men now sentenced to two years' imprisonment happened to be last. As we have said, it looks as if it were an accident that theirs were not the hands which came so near taking the life of Constable Stove. The magistrates of the city have lately been sparing the rod. Everybody is gratified to notice this unobtrusive method of giving young men of riotous inclinations the benefit of a willing observance of public decorum. But it would be unwise to carry that forbearance too far, and turbulent youths will certainly do well to note that it is worth while for them to respect that forbearance.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The news which we publish this morning from Suakim is of an interesting and absorbing character. The enemy, who were yesterday reported to have retired from their positions, have returned, and are now gathered in force at Tamai. The general advance of the British force, including the New South Wales Contingent, commenced at 2 a.m. yesterday, when the troops marched out of the camp in high spirits, and ready to meet the Arabs. It is expected that a decisive battle will be fought to-day in the vicinity of Tamai, and it is needless to say that the news of the encounter will be awaited in Sydney with the deepest interest. There is no material alteration in the aspect of affairs regarding the Anglo-Russian difficulty. Our telegrams this morning upon the subject are somewhat contradictory; and it is, perhaps, improbable that anything of a definite nature will be made known until the receipt of the Russian reply to the British Government, which is now on its way to England. Peace is likely to be established between France and China.

We understand that the Acting Colonial Secretary (Mr. Dalley), the Colonial Treasurer (Mr. Dibbs), and the Minister for Public Works (Mr. Wright) contemplate very soon paying a visit to Grafton and Lismore, where they will be present at banquets tendered to them as Ministers, and to the representatives of those districts.

His Honor the Primary Judge sat in Equity yesterday, and disposed of a long list of general business. In the Lion Insurance Company v. Neild, it was ordered that an attachment should issue against the defendant for non-compliance with the order of the Court that he should hand over the books and papers of the plaintiff company, the writ, however, to remain in the Master's office till Tuesday week, in order that the defendant might show cause. In Hallen and others v. Rathray, the defendant, whose fitness for the position of trustee was questioned on account of his age, consented to retire. In the suit Spark v. Blanton, the defendant, another trustee, was removed, and an order made against him for costs. The Equity Court will not sit next week.

The attention of the Mayor of Sydney has been directed to a building which is being erected at the rear of No. 233, Macquarie-street, by the Government, for the purposes of a museum for the Department of Mines. The building is said to be not in accordance with the provisions of the Act, not being composed of the proper material, and being of such a character as to involve the safety of the citizens. His Worship does not think that any distinction should be made between the Government and a private individual, and he has directed the town clerk and the city architect to see that the building is made to come properly within the provisions of the Act referred to.

The City Architect is engaged in conference with the City Improvement Board with the view of compiling an amended City Improvement Act. It has been found that the existing Act contains irregularities which render its application difficult. The new compilation is intended to make the relations between the City Council and their officers and the Improvement Board more harmonious than they have been, and more beneficial to the citizens; and it is hoped that it will be completed in such time as to receive the approval of the Council, and be presented to Parliament by next session.

The Royal Commission on the Conservation of Water met yesterday, the following members being present:—Mr. J. B. Donkin, Mr. R. Barton, M.L.A., Mr. F. B. Gipps, C.E., and Mr. D. M'Mordie, B.E. In the absence of the president the chair was occupied by Mr. R. Barton, M.L.A. A large amount of important business was disposed of, and preliminary arrangements were made for the commission to visit Tamworth, Gunnedah, Narrabri, Walgett, Brewarrina, Bourke, Nyngan, and Dubbo to collect evidence and make observations on the subject of their inquiry. The Engineer's report on the Murray and Murrumbidgee Rivers will be considered next Thursday.

In our issue of to-day will be found a continuation of the "Civil Service List," the first portion of which was published in the Herald yesterday.

We are informed that there will be three services held to-day in St. Andrew's Cathedral—at 11 a.m., 3.15 p.m., and 7.30 p.m. The service at 3.15 p.m. will be a special one, consisting of collects and hymns with meditations upon the seven words from the Cross. This will be conducted by the Primate, who will also preach again at the 7.30 p.m. service, and deliver the sixth of the special course of sermons which he has been delivering during the present week.

About 800 people visited the Art Society's exhibition at the Town Hall yesterday, and in addition 40 children from the Deaf and Dumb Asylum were treated to a sight of the hundreds of attractive pictures hung upon the vestibule walls. The trustees of the Art Gallery of New South Wales have not yet selected an oil-painting and a water-colour from among the exhibits, as they have announced their intention of doing, and many of the visitors to the Town Hall during the last few days have inquired which pictures are to be hung in the National Art Gallery. Last evening a concert was given, under the direction of Mr. Chas. Huenerbein, who played a couple of pianoforte solos with very good effect. Miss Fabiem sang "Alas! those Chimes" and "Tit for Tat," and imparted to each song appropriate expression; Mons. de Willimoff was heard at his best in a violin solo, and was heartily applauded; and Mr. T. H. Rainford was very successful in his two numbers—"The Bridge" and "To the Front"—the latter being Mr. Charles Huenerbein's patriotic song. The Exhibition will be open to-morrow (Saturday) and Monday, so that holiday-makers with æsthetic taste have the chance of seeing and criticising the works of Australian artists. To-morrow evening a concert will be given under the direction of Madame Marius, who will be assisted by Madame King, Mons. de Willimoff, Mons. Desgardine, and Mr. Rodd. The exhibition will only remain open for another week.

The Sydney Light Horse are to escort his Excellency the Governor to Middle Head on Easter Monday. They will parade at 11.45 a.m. on that day, on their usual parade-ground, and will proceed by special punt to Milson's Point. A mounted parade in undress uniform will take place at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning, in Government House grounds, and it has been decided to proceed from there to Moore Park instead of to Homebush, as previously proposed.

Nearly six months ago Mr. James D'Arcy, of the Customs, and an old naval volunteer, succeeded in raising a battery of naval artillery volunteers, and the services of the new battery were offered to the Government in November last. The battery consisted then of about 60 men, but has since been filled up to about 150, and we are informed that others are willing to join as soon as the battery is accepted. The principles on which this battery has been formed are similar to those guiding the Royal Naval Artillery Volunteers of England, who provide their own uniforms, give time and services gratis, and pay yearly subscriptions to the funds of the corps: all they ask is the privilege of electing their own officers by competitive examinations, a method which does away with all favouritism and party feeling. The Volunteer Act and Naval Artillery Rules both allow this mode of election of officers. The corps in question is drilled in all the different gun drills, both in field and naval guns; instruction is given in the use of the Martini-Henri rifle and revolver practice, besides sword exercises. In case of war a battery of Naval Artillery could either man some of the vessels and gunboats and meet any enemy outside, or man the forts, or even act in the field as field artillery or infantry, like the Naval Brigade in the Egyptian wars. It is to be hoped (adds the correspondent who has furnished the above details) that the Government will soon accept this new battery, which is purely volunteer, so that they can become efficient as soon as possible.

A late member of the Honourable Artillery Company of London writes to suggest that a new infantry corps on purely volunteer principles be formed in Sydney after the same style as the Honourable Artillery Company. That regiment, he writes, consists of none but gentlemen members, who, instead of receiving any remuneration whatever, have to pay an entrance fee on joining, as well as an annual subscription, and provide their own uniforms. The Honourable Artillery Company is well known, he adds, as the crack volunteer corps in England, and ranks amongst the first in efficiency, both in drill and target practice, owing to the fact that it is composed of members who give their heart and soul to it, and although the privates consider themselves as good as their officers, they pay strict attention to discipline when on parade. Our correspondent expresses his conviction that if such a regiment were started here many gentlemen would join it, and, in case of need, would prove themselves of great service. The light cavalry regiment, which has recently been formed, has, he says, met with great success; but he thinks that a good many would-be volunteers cannot join it, on account of the heavy expenses connected with the horses, and they would be glad to join an infantry regiment. Our correspondent offers his services as a volunteer in case such a regiment were formed, and in the meantime places a copy of the rules of the H. A. C. at the temporary disposal of anyone taking an interest in the matter.

A meeting of the National Shipwreck Relief Society was to have been held at the Exchange yesterday afternoon, but lapsed from want of a quorum. Only Mr. J. H. Storey and Captains Brown and Burns were present.

The first business meeting of the Granville Municipal Council was held at the local School of Arts on Wednesday evening. The Mayor reported that he had appointed Mr. J. Beach secretary pro tem. The following correspondence was read:—From the Department of Public Works, offering £25 for the maintenance and repair of the portion of the main road running through the municipality, and £150 in lieu of tolls. From Messrs. Fowler and Co., offering to supply a steam roller. The correspondence was received. The following resolutions were carried:—"That the business of the council be transacted at the School of Arts, Granville, between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. every Monday and Friday;" and "That the council meet every alternate Wednesday at 8 p.m." The following appointments were made:—Finance Committee—The Mayor and Aldermen Hudson, Grimwood, and H. Richardson. Improvement Committee—The Mayor and Aldermen R. Richardson, Baker, and Grimwood. By-laws Committee—The Mayor and Aldermen H. Richardson, Hudson, and R. Richardson. Park Committee—Aldermen Baker, Niblett, Ritchie, and Grimwood. Lighting Committee—Aldermen Baker, Scarborough, Ritchie, and Grimwood. Treasurer—Alderman Niblett. The bylaws committee were empowered to draw up a code of bylaws, and the Mayor was authorised to call for tenders for valuers to assess the ratable property. It was decided to apply to the Minister for Mines to align and proclaim the streets of the borough, to apply to the Government for a chart of the borough, and to ask for a grant of £200 in aid of the improvement of the park. The meeting then terminated.

The monthly meeting of the Animals Protection Society was held on Wednesday. There were present—Messrs. B. Cooke (in the chair), J. Horbury Hunt, J. Tait, W. W. Stephen, J. Sidney (secretary), and Inspector G. Webber. After the usual finance business, the summary of the inspector's report was read, and satisfaction was expressed at the decrease in the number of acts of cruelty brought under notice, and at the improved condition generally of the horses in the city and suburbs. During the month there were 12 prosecutions and 12 convictions; 48 cautions were issued; the number of complaints received was 9; and 9 cases were investigated.

The tram traffic and the tariff of fares to Leichhardt formed the subject of consideration at a public meeting held on the 25th March, at which certain resolutions were passed. A letter was written to the Minister for Works on the 30th March, informing him that the meeting had been held, and a deputation desired to wait upon him. Mr. Wright, however, wrote declining to see the deputation, stating he could not see that any object would be gained by his receiving such a deputation. He had already had with representatives from Leichhardt one interview, at which the question was fully considered. He had, moreover, recently acceded to a portion of the request then made by increasing the length of the first section of the tramway from Ross-street to Missenden-road. No further alteration would be made until the present tariff of fares had had a fair trial, when the whole matter would be reconsidered; but judging from present indications he could not see any probability of the fares being reduced. The matter generally would receive his best and careful attention, and everything would be done in favour of the travelling public consistent with the determination of the Government that the tramway system must be self-supporting. Mr. J. S. Hawthorne, writing upon the subject, points out that, although the Minister for Works has made a concession, it will not in any way benefit the residents of Leichhardt, who will still have to pay 5d. in tickets, or 7d. in cash. It would not, he thinks, have been a waste of time for Mr. Wright to have received a second deputation upon the matter. Mr. Hawthorne concludes his letter by suggesting that the following slight concession should be granted:—"Make the Newtown-road the first 2d. ticket section, the Missenden-road the first 1d. ticket section (which is the fare Mr. Wright has agreed to), and then let the next section, ending at the terminus, be another 1d. section, thus making the fare from end to end what it was formerly—4d. by tickets, or 6d. cash."

We have been shown a remarkably fine specimen of the death adder tribe, which was killed in the bush at Rosevale, near Botany, on the 21st ultimo, by Mr. George Sainsbury. The length of the reptile is 25½ inches, and it is about 6 inches in girth. Its head is broad and rather prominent above the eyes, which are small. It has no fewer than 36 dark-coloured bands, or rows of scales, running from the neck to the tip of the tail. The tail tapers down to a small point, which closely resembles a poison fang. This latter protuberance is much dreaded by many persons, but it is neither a weapon of attack nor of defence. The death adder is said to be somewhat sluggish in its habits. It is found in nearly every part of the Australian continent. The specimen under notice has been preserved in spirits of wine by Mr. J. O. Avis, of No. 82, Wellington-street, Waterloo, and presented by him to the Denton Museum of the Sydney Progressive Lyceum.

The sittings of the Central Criminal Court were brought to a close yesterday. The Bench was occupied by his Honor the Chief Justice, and Mr. W. J. Foster, assisted by Mr. Gibson, prosecuted on behalf of the Crown. The prisoners, John Fox, John Donohoe, Jeremiah Sullivan, James Kelly, Walter Burns, and Michael Healey, who were convicted the previous day of having taken part in the riot which was created at the Bondi pavilion on Boxing Day, and also the prisoner John Jones, who had pleaded guilty to the charge, were each sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour. In the case of the prisoners Jones, Healey, and Kelly, who had been previously sentenced to eight years' penal servitude, his Honor directed that the sentence should be concurrent. The only remaining case on the list was that in which Evan Thomas, a chemist, was charged with having supplied, administered to, and caused to be taken by one Ada Hughes a certain drug, with intent thereby to procure abortion. The prisoner was undefended. The case for the Crown was very short, and the jury, after having heard the evidence, found a verdict of not guilty, and the accused was discharged. The Court then adjourned sine die.

Arthur Brown, an inmate of the Callan Park Asylum, effected his escape from that institution on Wednesday last about 5 p.m. One of the attendants, Patrick Daly, was at once sent in pursuit, and, with the assistance of Constable M'Coll, of the Redfern police, recaptured the escapee in his sister's house in Bullanaming-street yesterday afternoon. Brown was a "privileged" patient, and as such was, it is stated, allowed to have a key in his possession.

In the issue of the New South Wales Police Gazette of the 1st instant appear portraits of the prisoners William White alias Thurston, and Thomas Angel alias Hobson, charged with the murder of Constable John Mitchell, acting gaoler at Coonamble Gaol, on March 12, under circumstances already detailed. The portraits are woodcuts taken from photographs, and are very cleverly executed. A detailed description of each man is included in the Gazette, as follows:—White is about 29 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches high, medium build, brown hair and eyes, clean shaved (when he escaped), but when last seen had a beard of about 14 days' growth. He is a native of the colony, and by occupation a drover. He was under sentence of seven years on the roads. Angel is about 26 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches high, with sallow complexion, dark hair, whiskers, and moustache (he may, however, be clean shaved), thin face, high cheek bones, head inclined forward, and peculiar expression about the eyes. He usually wears his hat well over the left side of the face, and he dresses well. He was under a sentence of four years on the roads. A Government reward of £200 is offered for the arrest of each of the offenders.

Yesterday afternoon the City Coroner, Mr. H. Shiell, J.P., held an inquest at the Darlinghurst Gaol on the body of a woman named Maria Peters, who died in the gaol hospital from pleuro-pneumonia. The deceased was sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment on the 21st ultimo, in consequence of the non-payment of a fine. After hearing medical and other evidence, the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Yesterday afternoon a man named William Hillier, 40 years of age, committed suicide by hanging himself to a bedpost with a whipthong, at the residence of Mrs. Shiels, Fern Lodge, Willoughby-street, St. Leonards. From what can be gathered of the circumstances surrounding the sad affair, it appears that the deceased, who was a foreman at Mr. Holle's tailoring establishment, in the Haymarket, had not been to his place of business since Monday last. Yesterday morning he retired to his room and locked himself in the apartment. Finding he did not make his appearance, and hearing no noise in the room, Mrs. Shiels became alarmed, and on going to the place she found that the door was locked on the inside. Ultimately it was burst open, when it was discovered that the deceased was suspended by the neck from the bedpost, as already stated. Senior-Constable Macourt was sent for, and the officer cut the man down at once, but life was quite extinct. Dr. Moore subsequently examined the body, which was afterwards removed to the Circular Quay morgue. The matter has been reported to the City Coroner, and an inquest will doubtless take place on Saturday.

On the offer of aid coming from New South Wales (says the Whitehall Review) with commendable alacrity and, doubtless, with persuasive eloquence, Sir Saul Samuel carried the offer of alliance to the home Government. We rejoice to think that it has been accepted. The offer was made in no half-hearted, vague, or dispirited manner. The Government of New South Wales offered what force they could spare. In no niggard way has the offer been sent. The soldiers of New South Wales are to be sent to Suakim, and every penny of the expense connected with the transport and pay of the troops is to be borne by the colonial purse. We do not hesitate to say that, in face of the recent indifference which the Liberals have shown towards the colonies, the offer is not only a heroic but a bold one. The colony of Victoria has followed suit, but in a less emphatic manner. Doubtless with a fear that her offer might be refused, and she herself snubbed, Victoria at first only in a general way made offer of assistance. We do not question the sincerity of the original offer, but it lacked the spontaneity of that of the sister colony. It has since been amended, and a more definite offer made. From Canada, too, come loyal offers. We hope these will be accepted all round, and no distinction made. The troops from Australia can, of course, be landed on the banks of the Nile almost as soon as the reinforcements can be sent from this side. Canada is farther off, but it would be a thousand pities if the opportunity were lost for having on the battlefield, at one and the same time, contingents from our strong and wealthy colonies. India, of course, we look upon more as an empire than a colony; but still, in the present instance, her troops may share the same welcome as those from the colonies are sure to do. Towards India, as towards Australia, our Government have raised the cry of "Perish!" Perish all their pomp and circumstance, all their ancient scroll of glory! Yet here, when the mother country is perishing herself, it is to India and Australia that we look for succour. We hail with unmingled feelings of gratification this union of Greater with Great Britain. It means greatness indeed.

Divine service will be held on Easter Sunday at the Middle Head encampment by the Rev. S. Wilkinson, military chaplain. There will be a church parade of the troops, and the service will commence at 11 o'clock. At 7 p.m. (weather permitting) there will be a special evening service. At the South Head encampment the morning service will be conducted by the Rev. George Brown.

We have been requested by the Civil Service Board to state that it is noticed that an error has been inadvertently made in classifying the clerk of the Parliaments in the 2nd class of the General Division. Mr. Calvert is the head of a Department, and therefore entitled to be classed in the 1st Division.

The following is the report of the Benevolent Asylum for the week ending April 1, 1885:—Admitted: 7 women, 5 children; births, 3; deaths, 2. Discharged, 7 women, 19 children. Remaining in the house, 92 women, 107 children; total, 199. Provisions distributed: 1455 loaves bread, 999lb. flour, 260lb. meat, 374lb. sugar, 95½lb. tea, 36lb. sago, 103lb. rice, 35lb. oatmeal. Fresh applications for relief, 2; cases reported by the inspector, 20; in four cases the relief was discontinued for various reasons: total number of cases relieved, 367.

THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

THE ADVANCE UPON TAMAI.

NEW SOUTH WALES TO THE FRONT.

THE ENEMY IN STRONG FORCE.

A DECISIVE BATTLE EXPECTED.

[By Cable.]
(From our own correspondent.)

SUAKIM, April 1 (Night).

The enemy have returned in force to Tamai.

The British troops in camp here struck their tents this afternoon, and will commence the advance upon Tamai at 2 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Infantry and Ambulance Corps of the New South Wales Contingent, and probably a detachment of the N. S. W. Artillery, with four guns, will join the expedition.

All the New South Wales troops are well and in high spirits, and ready to meet the enemy. The scene in camp this evening was a very lively one. It is expected that a sharp encounter with the enemy will take place towards Tamai.

(From Reuter's special correspondent.)

SUAKIM, April 1, 10 p.m.

In accordance with orders issued yesterday the British cavalry left here this morning, and made a reconnaissance in force in the direction of Tamai, where they found a large body of the enemy strongly posted. The troops returned to camp in the evening. Orders have now been issued for the whole of General Graham's force, with the exception of the 17th Bengal Infantry (Loyal Poorbiahs), to advance towards Tamai at daybreak to-morrow (Thursday) morning.

A decisive battle is expected to be fought on Friday, 3rd instant.

TELEGRAM FROM THE AGENT-GENERAL.

The following telegram was received by the Acting Colonial Secretary from the Agent-General yesterday:—"The New South Wales Contingent has been attached to the Brigade of Guards, which has given them great satisfaction. Scots Fusilier Guards gave a dinner last night to the Australian officers. Press correspondents say great anxiety prevails amongst our men to cross steel with the enemy. The rumours as to the dispersal of Osman Digna's forces cause them intense disappointment. The correspondents say further that a finer and better picked corps of men has never assembled. They are thoroughly delighted with the hearty welcome they have received from their companions in arms. General Graham has telegraphed to the War Office that he has found the enemy in force. The whole of the British force will not operate against Tamai. Battle expected."

PATRIOTIC FUND.

The Hon. W. B. Dalley yesterday received the following contributions towards the Patriotic Fund:—Mrs. Agnes Simmonds, 156, Woolloomooloo-street, £10; Mr. Lipscombe, licensed surveyor, £5; Mr. Alexander Cumming, £10 10s.

The following sums were received yesterday by the hon. treasurers to the Patriotic Fund:—

Government Printer and employees	104	10	6
A few Newingtonians, per Richard A. Baker ..	14	0	0
K. W. Goerge's first instalment sale of "Australia's Message"	3	0	0
Employees Waterworks, Botany, per Mr. H. Westcott	4	16	6

A meeting of the committee of the Parramatta branch of the Patriotic Fund was held on Wednesday evening, Mr. C. B. Cairnes presiding. It was reported that the subscriptions promised to date amounted to £577, and that of this amount £483 had been paid. It was announced that circulars soliciting subscriptions had been issued, and that others were about to be sent out. Suggestions were made as to the best means of raising additional funds, and it was resolved to arrange, if possible, for a lecture on the Soudan and Egypt. The secretary was instructed to invite the co-operation of the Mayor and aldermen of Granville, and the meeting then terminated.

OUR ROME CORRESPONDENT AND THE NEW SOUTH WALES CONTINGENT.

Regarding the New South Wales Contingent, our Rome correspondent writes on Feb. 21:—"In the midst of the sorrow shared by every loyal English heart at the recent evil tidings from the Soudan, it was no small pride and consolation to hear of Australia's generous proof of affection to the mother-country in offering the assistance of her sons in this time of trial and danger. In Italy, as in every country of Europe, the moral impression is very great; because the idea was very much abroad in Europe that the tie between the Australian colonies and England had grown slight and the allegiance merely nominal. When I have sometimes in past years had occasion to assert that they would rally round the parent Empire in such an emergency as the present, I have been listened to with a smile of incredulity, now giving place to expressions of admiration at the solidarité of the British race. But Italy herself has been also 'up to the mark.' She has shown gratitude towards England as a constant old ally in the founding of her unity, and is most anxious to continue the policy which sent the Piedmontese contingent to the Crimea. Although the British Government has not asked, nor has Italy offered, troops, the small expeditions to the Red Sea ports have been steadily organised, and the third detachment will sail in a few days from Naples. The Italian officers show great interest in the Soudan war, and not a few are either brushing up what English they already know, or betaking themselves to the study of the difficult northern tongue in earnest."

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA.

THE DELIMITATION SCHEME.

[By Cable.]
(From our own correspondent.)

LONDON, April 1.

The Pall Mall Gazette to-day publishes an inspired article, in which it is declared that the adoption of the scheme of M. Lessar, for the delimitation of the Russo-Afghan boundary, is regarded in official circles as less hopeful than was anticipated.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, April 1.

The Pall Mall Gazette of to-day publishes a statement, in which it asserts that the Russian Government, in the reply now on its way to England, has accepted the zone proposed by Lord Granville in his despatch of 16th instant, within which the future Russo-Afghan boundary will be fixed by a joint commission.

THE DEFENCE OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

We are informed by the Acting-Colonial Secretary that in connection with the defence of the colony an abundant supply of arms of all descriptions has been ordered from England for the Government of New South Wales, and may be expected to arrive here about the beginning of next month.

A meeting of wharf labourers and others was held at St. Bridget's school-room, last evening, for the purpose of promoting the enrolment of men in the Naval Brigade and the formation of a Naval Reserve. Mr. E. W. O'Sullivan was voted to the chair, and explained that, owing to the danger of war with Russia, the Government required volunteers, and as it was the duty of every citizen to defend his country, he called upon those present to offer their services. The wharf labourers were just the class required, as they were mostly seamen. He said that owing to the action of the wharf labourers in the matter, upwards of 100 of their number had that evening gone to enrol themselves at Fort Macquarie. On the motion of Messrs. Allen and Petersen, it was decided that the wharf labourers of Sydney should be called upon to enrol in the Naval Brigade, and when the required number was accepted that a Naval Reserve should be formed. On the motion of Mr. Carson, it was resolved that the chairman should be empowered to call a mass meeting of wharf labourers on Flagstaff-hill for Saturday next, at 4 p.m., in order to take the names of all who were willing to serve in a Naval Brigade or Naval Reserve. Mr. Allen was appointed secretary of the movement, and the meeting adjourned.

PREPARATIONS IN VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, Thursday.

Mr. G. D. Carter, the Mayor of Melbourne, and Mr. Fitzgibbon, the Town Clerk, waited on the Premier and the Minister of Defence to-day, and presented the resolution that was passed by the City Council at the meeting held last Monday to the following effect:—"That, having regard to the strained relations now existing between Russia and Great Britain, and consequent on the possibility of war occurring, it was, in the opinion of the City Council, desirable that the whole male population volunteering to serve should be drilled and made efficient for service in the defence of the colony." In presenting the resolution, Mr. Carter said that it was felt by the council that a large number of old volunteers and others would gladly offer their services for the defence of the colony, and that if those men were drilled they would prove of the utmost value in the event of a declaration of war. It would not be necessary to give the men who volunteered arms or uniforms in the first instance, but the Government should take the names of those who were willing to submit to a course of thoroughly sound and serviceable drill. Colonel Sargood said that the difficulty to be met with at the outset was the want of sufficient drill instructors. The Mayor suggested that a larger staff should be provided. Personally, he thought every man in the colony should be compelled to go through a course of drill if he did not understand it already. Colonel Sargood said that the Government were taking an important step in the direction of imparting military training in connection with the establishment of various school cadet corps throughout the colony. There were now 2000 cadets enrolled, and there were also 4500 members of rifle clubs, whom it was proposed to affiliate with the militia. Mr. Service said he agreed largely with the views of the Mayor and City Council, and would lay the whole matter before the Cabinet.

THE DEFENCES OF ADELAIDE.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

To-day the Colonial Treasurer sent a cable to Sir Arthur Blyth instructing him to order, from the Woolwich Arsenal, 10 14-inch Whitehead torpedoes, a complete set of tools, and spare gear, as an addition to the defence force.

Captain Gordon, of the Permanent Force, has sent in a report on the state of the Glanville and Largs forts, which is under consideration. Major Jervois has arranged for a cavalry patrol between Glanville and Glenelg in the event of war being declared. It is now considered unnecessary to proceed with the sandbag defences on the land side of Largs fort. For the purposes of blocking the entrance to the Port River it is thought that torpedoes to be exploded from the shore by means of electricity are better than those which act on impact, and would not block the entrance to the river.

THE EASTER MANŒUVRES.

The following is a complete programme of the military and naval manœuvres to be carried out on Easter Monday. The Wolverene, Ajax, Captain Cook, Juno, and Neptune will rendezvous at Broken Bay by 11 a.m. on Monday. They will proceed to sea, and soon after engage an enemy. They will be driven to seek shelter in Sydney Harbour, keeping up a running fight all the time. The Wolverene will anchor across the Sound of North Harbour, the Ajax and Captain Cook being with her. The Juno and Neptune will anchor in Obelisk Bay, between Middle and George's Heads. The enemy will be represented by two steam launches flying large red flags, and will enter the Heads, being fired on by the batteries as well as by the different war ships. One will endeavour to run into Middle Harbour, and land men in Hunter's Bay for the purpose of taking the batteries in the rear. The enemy will be met by a land force, who will open fire, and after a short time will retire. The torpedoes in Middle Harbour will then be fired, and the enemy will retire, but be captured by one of the war-ships. The other launch representing the other division of the enemy will endeavour to pass up the eastern channel, but will be met by a heavy fire from batteries and infantry, and torpedoes will be fired. This will cause the surrender of this vessel, which will haul down its flag. At the same time the vessel up Middle Harbour will have its flag hauled down on capture. This will end the sham fight. His Excellency the Governor with an escort of the Light Horse will proceed to Middle Head to inspect the troops at about 1 p.m. After the inspection, on receipt of the alarm the troops will take up their different posts and man the batteries. The force at South Head on receiving the alarm will send out a detachment to watch the road from the south, the remainder going to their posts and manning the batteries. Fire will be opened by the batteries as soon as the enemy are supposed to be within range, and this will be kept up while the colonial war ships pass along under and close to the North Head, and take up their positions in North Harbour and elsewhere. They also will keep up a fire as long as the enemy are in range. The force at North Head will man the batteries and detach Infantry to watch the Spit-road, as well as line the shores of the harbour and keep up a heavy fire upon the enemy, detaching a strong guard to keep the rear of the batteries safe. The Marine Board have issued a notice with regard to the lines to be kept in the harbour, and no person will be allowed inside any of the batteries or along the points of works. Anyone who may take it upon themselves to break this regulation will do so at their own risk, as it will be most difficult for the military, who will be fully employed, to keep the public out of the line of fire. The best views of the operations will be obtained from the heights south of Watson's Bay, Dobroyd Point, near Manly, and the high ground around Manly.

INTERVIEW BETWEEN the PREMIERS of VICTORIA and SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, THURSDAY.

The Hon. J. Colton, Premier of South Australia, who has just returned from New Zealand from his holiday trip, had an important interview with Mr. Service to-day. The information received from England recently relative to the Federation Enabling Bill was considered. Mr. Colton stated that as his Government from the outset favoured the retention of the 31st clause, which proposes to allow any colony to withdraw from the Federal Council at pleasure, he was not inclined to join in any further objection to it. Mr. Service thinks it highly improbable that Lord Derby will give way, and no fresh representations will be made by Mr. Service on the subject of the withdrawal of the clause. The disputed boundary between Victoria and South Australia was also under discussion, and it was agreed to refer the matter to the Privy Council for settlement. The first step to be taken will be that the South Australian Government will state a case which, with the answer of the Victorian Government, will be forwarded to the Privy Council. Mr. Service and Mr. Colton recognise the necessity of dealing with the disputed boundary question as speedily as possible, but it was regarded by Mr. Service as being unsuitable for submission to arbitration. Before Mr. Colton went to New Zealand, he submitted to Mr. Service a copy of a bill drafted by the Attorney-General of South Australia, dealing with absconding debtors. Mr. Service considered the bill; but to-day it was determined that no legislation should be attempted for the present, as the subject is one which might fairly be submitted to the Federal Council, if the Enabling Bill be passed. The two Premiers will have another conference in reference to the proposals connected with the establishment of the protectorate over New Guinea, which were submitted to them by Major-General Scratchley to-day. Mr. Colton will probably have an interview with Admiral Tryon before his return to Adelaide on Tuesday next.

A large public meeting was held here last night to protest against the railway crossing the Williams River below Clarence Town, and a deputation consisting of several members of Parliament and some of the local residents was appointed to wait on the Minister for Public Works on Tuesday next to lay the matter before him.

LISMORE, THURSDAY.

Mr. T. C. Lodge, manager of the A. J. S. Bank here, was presented with an address and purse of sovereigns at South Woodburn on Saturday, and the proceedings were very enthusiastic.

All arrangements are being made here for the reception of Ministers during their proposed visit, and at a meeting held on Monday night two travelling routes were adopted, to be submitted to the visitors for approval.

The concessions made by Government re the timber regulations have given satisfaction here, as the enforcement of a heavy license fee would be much felt in the present depressed state of trade.

The weather still keeps warm and dry, and rain is required for cane and growing crops in many parts of the district, but the prospects of the cane crop for the next season are good so far. Horses and cattle are looking well, the supply of grass being plentiful. Business generally is very dull; but reported mineral discoveries and the introduction of fresh capital in the purchase of farms should give an impulse to matters very shortly.

The usual outdoor amusements in the form of races, regattas, &c., are proposed for Easter Monday.

It is proposed to start a volunteer corps here at an early date, and several residents have already offered their services to the Government.

KEMPSEY, THURSDAY.

A meeting was held last night, at the Templars' Hall, for the purpose of forming a branch of the Local Option League. The Rev. Bell (Presbyterian) acted as chairman, and the Rev. Fox (Wesleyan), Mr. O. Dangar, Rev. Gilby (Primitive), Rev. Turner (Wesleyan), and Father Kelly (Roman Catholic) proposed and seconded the various resolutions. The addresses were cordially received. The league numbers between 30 and 40.

A free selectors' meeting was held at the Royal Hotel, which was addressed at considerable length by Mr. Enoch Rudder, J.P., who favoured greater liberality to the selectors, a remission of interest, and the formation of a branch of the Land and Industrial Alliance; but Mr. Graulton objected to the remission of interest. A branch of the alliance was formed, and several members were enrolled.

A meeting of persons favourable to the formation of a local volunteer corps, which has been held here, was sparsely attended. Mr. T. G. Panton, J.P., officiated as chairman, and a resolution affirming the desirability of the formation of the corps was passed. A committee was appointed to carry out the object of the meeting.

The local Bench was occupied all yesterday investigating a charge of stealing a log of cedar. The defendant was found guilty, and was fined £3 with costs, and £4, the value of the log. Mr. Kerrigan, solicitor for the prosecution, on behalf of a large number of parties interested in the timber trade, drew the attention of the Bench to the inadequate punishment for offences respecting the stealing of timber. The Bench concurred in his views, and stated that probably the attention of the Minister of Justice might be directed to the necessity of providing for the punishment of offenders against the interests of timber-getters.

A sad fatal accident occurred to-day near Sevenoaks. A son of Mr. James O'Neill, late storekeeper at Summer Island, was driving a large springcart, with a round tank, when, through a jolt caused by a rut, the boy was thrown out, and the tank fell on his head, crushing his skull and causing death. This is the second fatal accident that has occurred here this week. A young man named Goble, in the employ of Mr. Donald M'Kay, of Pola Creek, accidentally fell off a log into the creek and was drowned.

WOLLONGONG, THURSDAY.

The Engineer-in-Chief of Harbours and Rivers visited Wollongong, and inspected the lagoon from which the principal water supply is drawn. Owing to the number of horses camping in the vicinity, the water has been polluted beyond description, rendering it unfit for domestic uses. Yesterday, accompanied by the Mayor and others, he visited the proposed site for the water supply in a locality specially adapted for that purpose. He spoke highly of the site, and it is expected that the work will be started soon.

A large and influential committee was appointed at a public meeting last night, to arrange for a public reception and testimonial to William Beach on his return.

NYNGAN, THURSDAY.

The gross earnings of the railway at Nyngan station for the past half-year are £74,766.

The weather is fine.

GOULBURN, THURSDAY.

Mr. H. T. Makin, Crown lands agent here, was presented with an address this evening, and a purse of sovereigns is to be forwarded to him at Glen Innes, to which place he has been promoted. Mr. Makin's departure from this district is generally regretted.

TUMUT, THURSDAY.

On three consecutive nights severe frosts prevailed here, damaging the late corn and potatoes, and cutting down the pumpkin vines. The days are bright and sunny.

ADELONG, THURSDAY.

The man Fifield, who was arrested on suspicion of having set fire to Mr. Ross's house and hayshed, was committed for trial by the Adelong Bench yesterday.

A man named J. Hodgson died here to-day. He had been drinking very heavily, and left his brother's hotel yesterday at 1 o'clock. As he put in no appearance at night, a number of the townsfolk, along with the police, went in search, and found him at the bottom of a shaft 60 feet deep. They got him up and conveyed him home, where he received medical attention, but gradually sank, and died this afternoon.

ALBURY, THURSDAY.

An animated discussion took place in the Borough Council to-night over a motion for adopting a new bylaw designed to prohibit the Salvation Army processions, except where special permission of the Mayor has first been obtained. The resolution was carried by a majority of one.

MUDGEE, THURSDAY.

The Mudgee volunteers, numbering nearly 50, left by train this morning for Sydney, en route for South Head.

The weather is fine.

WAGGA WAGGA, THURSDAY.

A brigade order has been received here from headquarters with instructions that recruiting is to go on until the local company be increased to 100 in all ranks. Mr. H. B. Fitzhardinge, solicitor, who is an old volunteer, has been appointed captain.

A public meeting was held here this afternoon to take into consideration the advisability of memorialising the Government to take steps to provide a courthouse suitable for the growing requirements and importance of the district. Mr. J. Gormley, the Mayor, occupied the chair, and a resolution was carried to the effect that the Mayor communicate with the Minister for Justice to induce him to visit the town on his way from Hay, failing which, the Mayor, Messrs. H. B. Fitzhardinge, P. Moran, D. Copland, H. Hayes, and S. Hawkins be appointed a committee to interview the Minister at Junee Junction. During the assizes Mr. Justice Innes continually complained of the inconvenience of the court.

The mining manager of the Basaltic Gold-mining Company, under date of the 30th ultimo, reports that during the preceding week the tunnel had been driven a further distance of 8 feet, making a total of 523 feet driven up to date. The ground is much improved, and the face of the tunnel is making a little water. It is intended to start sinking the working shaft next week.

The mining manager of the Great Britain Tin-mining Company, Limited, reports 17½ tons tin ore as the production for the past month, during which period 19 tons 18cwt. were despatched from the mine.

UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY.

The University of Sydney has recently issued a pamphlet, the object of which is to give the public a better knowledge than they possess of the Department of Engineering and the facilities offered for students. This pamphlet shows that the course in the Department of Engineering, which is under the direction of Professor W. H. Warren, extends over three years, and provides a thorough scientific and technical training for those who desire to qualify for the profession of a civil, mechanical, or mining engineer, or for those who in after life are likely to be engaged in agricultural pursuits or in professional employment, such as telegraphy and electric engineering, architecture, and surveying. Students in engineering, in common with all University students, are required to pass the matriculation examination, and to devote their first year to the arts course. In the second and third years instruction is given by means of lectures (and practical work in such subjects as chemistry, physics, and mineralogy) in the sciences which bear more or less upon engineering. The students are also taught the use of the various instruments used in surveying and setting out engineering works—the University ground being well suited for the practical teaching of this subject. Instruction is also given in designing and preparing working drawings of structures and machinery. The engineering lecture-room is provided with a large collection of models and diagrams of mechanisms and parts of machines and structures. A workshop is in course of erection, which will be fitted with typical examples of modern machinery, a pair of horizontal engines, and a powerful and accurate testing machine. In the workshop the student will receive practical instruction in the various processes involved in the preparation of materials used in the arts of construction, the quantitative determination of the efficiencies of prime movers and machines, and the testing of the strength and other properties of materials used in engineering and building construction. Attached to the pamphlet are the by-laws and a table of fees for the engineering course. The following is a summary of the fees:—Matriculation fee, £2; first year, £25 4s.; second year, £55 13s.; third year, £40 19s.; fee for B.E. degree, £10; total, £133 16s.

ENGLISH ELEVEN V SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, THURSDAY.

The last match played by Shaw's English Eleven in the colonies, against Fifteen of South Australia, was commenced here to-day on the Oval. The weather was splendid; but owing to the small interest manifested in the match the attendance was very limited. Jarvis captained the South Australians, and the English captain having won the toss, sent Barnes and Scotton to the wickets to the bowling of Musgrove and Giffen. Barnes started the scoring by sending Musgrove to the chains for five, and the partnership continued up to the luncheon hour, by which time the score amounted to 41 without the loss of a wicket. The details then were:—

ENGLISH ELEVEN.—First Innings.

Scotton, not out	12
Barnes, not out	28
Sundry	1
No wickets for...	41

BERRIMA DISTRICT COURSING CLUB.

SECOND DAY.

MOSS VALE, THURSDAY.

The Berrima Coursing Meeting was brought to a termination to-day. There was splendid weather, and a fair attendance, with excellent sport, the hares running very stoutly, and most of them escaping. A start was not made till mid-day, and an Impromptu Stakes was got up to fill up the afternoon. The principal event—the Berrima District Stakes—was carried off by Mr. M'Quade's William Tell, who throughout showed a fine turn of speed to the hare, though he died away towards the end of the final course. Will o' the Wisp, the runner-up, had only a brief opening towards the end of a good trial after a racing hare. The Berrima St. Leger was divided by Messrs. Thorn and Delauret's Tam o' Shanter and Wild Wave, the victory of these two young Goulburn coursers being very popular. The Impromptu Stakes also went to Goulburn, Mr. W. O'Brien's Ohei raising the winning flag. At the conclusion of the running, the company spent a social hour together, during which the toasts of "The Losers," "The Winners," "The Judge," and "The Slipper," and that of Mr. Graham, the hon. secretary, were honoured. Appended are the results:—

THE INVERELL PICNIC RACE CLUB.

SECOND DAY.

INVERELL, THURSDAY.

The Inverell Picnic Races came to a termination to-day. The weather was simply delightful, and the attendance much larger than that of yesterday. The racing was of a high order, and some of the finishes were very exciting. Old Trevallyn, the well-known son of the Laird, was quite the hero of the occasion, and won no less than three races. The Handicap Hurdle Race was worth going a journey to see, and after a beautiful race Trevallyn won by a long head. Rapid's performance in the Ladies' Bag was the best yet done on the course, as he won in fine style, doing the mile in 1 minute and 50 seconds under 10st. 13lb. The same horse won the Ladies' Bag last year. The fields were smaller than usual, owing to several circumstances, principal amongst which were the deaths of the late Mr. A. Cruickshank and Mr. P. W. Anderson, who were warm supporters of the club. The course was in splendid order, and everything passed off without any accident. The following are the results of the various events:—

THE TURF.

The rooms were well attended last evening, but betting was far from brisk; the public appeared to be loth to speculate. Normanby, who was as good a favourite as anything yesterday, receded to 10 to 1, while Moonshee advanced to 6 to 1. Coriolanus and Sheet Anchor were at 8 to 1, and 10 to 1 was accepted about Conjecture. Merlin met with some support at 12 to 1, and 14 to 1 was taken about Helene.

A committee meeting of the Australian Jockey Club was held yesterday afternoon, when some formal business was transacted.

St. John has been scratched for the Doncaster Handicap, and the Agent for the Hurdle Race and the Doncaster Handicap.

PRINCE ALFRED YACHT CLUB.

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince Alfred Yacht Club was held at the club-room, Compagnoni's Catering Company, on Wednesday evening last; Dr. Milford (the commodore) in the chair. Present—Messrs. A. W. Stephen, A. Carmichael, F. Adams, H. Shiell, W. Mitchell, and F. Bennett, hon. sec. Minutes of previous monthly and adjourned meetings read and confirmed. Mr. J. J. Richardson's steam yacht Diana was admitted. The secretary informed the meeting that in the late race for the commodore's prize, and a second prize of £5, Mr. A. Carmichael's Australian was first, and Mr. P. O. Williams's Ione second. The prizes were then handed to the winners, the commodore's prize being a very handsome musical box and silver medals, with an appropriate inscription on for the crew. It was decided to close the season on the 2nd May with the usual luncheon. After a slight discussion as to the advisability of continuing the present room on for a further period of three months it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the secretary. Owing to the variable state of the weather, it was deemed advisable to have no further races this season. Several accounts were passed, and the meeting then adjourned.

On Tuesday evening a meeting was held at St. Mark's schoolroom to consider the advisability of forming a lawn-tennis club for Double Bay. A motion to the effect that such an institution would supply a long-felt want was carried unanimously. A paddock in the vicinity of William-street, Double Bay, in which it was said that three courts could easily be laid, was selected as the ground. It was announced that play to a limited extent could commence at an early date, as one of the courts can be formed without delay. Mr. J. P. Kidson, Woodlands, William-street, Double Bay, was elected as hon. secretary and treasurer pro tem.

We learn by telegram from our Albury correspondent that the Albury Gun Club announce a grand pigeon-shooting handicap for the 16th and 17th April, the first prize being £100. The match is open to all comers. The principal prize on the second day will be a trophy value £20.

Frank Hewitt, the well-known pedestrian, has accepted 20 yards in 300 for £50 a-side. The match is to take place at Botany to-day.

DEPUTATIONS.

THE TIMBER REGULATIONS.

Yesterday morning a deputation consisting of Messrs. Garvan, H. Clarke, Humphery, and Gray, members of the Legislative Assembly, with Messrs. H. Hudson, Guy, Webber, Woods, J. H. Goodlet, and other gentlemen interested in the timber trade, waited upon the hon. Minister for Mines, with a view to have a more perfect understanding with regard to the new timber regulations recently issued by the Government.

Mr. ABBOTT informed the deputation that there was a good deal of misconception with regard to the timber regulations amongst those who were interested in the timber trade, especially with respect to No. 6, which refers to the royalty on timber. Under that regulation royalties are only to be charged upon timber taken out of State forests, or timber reserves under Class A. Up to the present time there are no timber reserves in Class A. There are many State forests in the country, but none have been made since the passing of the new regulations. The present State forests were created under the old regulations, which provided for the payment of royalties on the removal of timber from any of those State forests, which are known as exempted reserves under the old regulations, and are now treated as State forests. No royalty whatever will be chargeable on any other lands except those included in State forests or timber reserves in class A. In all other timber and forest reserves license fees alone will be paid, without any royalty whatever, and the fees on these licenses will vary according to the class of forest reserve. Where timber is cut upon Crown lands the fee for cutting timber is £3 a-year, except in case of State forests, where it is £10 a-year.

MAIL AND PASSENGER TRAINS TO MUDGEE.

Yesterday a deputation, consisting of Sir John Robertson and Mr. R. H. D. White, Ms.L.A., and Messrs. H. M. Toddhunter (manager of the Australian Joint Stock Bank, Mudgee) and T. F. de C. Browne, waited on the Minister for Works to ask him to make an alteration in the running of the mail and passenger trains between Mudgee and the metropolis. Sir John Robertson introduced the deputation, and read a petition in favour of the object, stating that he had been informed by representative people that the recent alterations made by the Commissioner in the running of trains between Mudgee and Sydney had made matters worse than they were before the making of the railway. In addition to the petition referred to, he read a letter addressed to himself, asking him to urge the desirability of making the changes requested by the petitioners. The petition pointed out that at a meeting of business men in the Mudgee Town Hall on March 28 the action of the department in altering the time-table of the mail and passenger trains was unanimously disapproved of, the alteration leaving the Mudgee people in a worse position than when they had their mails delivered by Cobb and Co. to and from Mount Victoria. The reason given for the alteration was that the line was unsafe. This, the petitioners presumed, was that portion of the line from the tunnel at Carlos Gap to Brogan Creek, a distance of about 18 miles, but to provide against any danger in this part they suggested that the train could travel slowly over it, and could make up the extra time by starting half an hour or more earlier than at present. A letter to Sir John Robertson on behalf of the petitioners, and signed by Mr. Wm. Wilton and W. Bishop, mayors of Mudgee and Cudgegong respectively, pointed out some of the inconveniences following the change in running day instead of night trains from Sydney to Mudgee. Persons travelling to Sydney had to leave Mudgee at 8 a.m., arriving in Sydney about 6.30 p.m.; those leaving Sydney at 9 a.m. arrived in Mudgee about 7.30 p.m., thus losing a whole day each way, proving a serious loss to business men. Before the change was made a person could leave Mudgee at night, arriving in Sydney about half-past 6 in the morning, transact business, and be in Mudgee again the next morning, thus losing only one day. Many persons living in other districts now preferred going to other stations which best suited their convenience. With regard to postal matters, letters posted in Mudgee, say on Monday, reached Sydney on Tuesday night, and were not attended to till Wednesday, and a reply was not available in Mudgee till Friday morning. Under the former system a reply would be in Mudgee on Wednesday morning. The petitioners pointed out that they were better off with Cobb and Co.'s coaches to Wallerawang, and should present arrangements continue probably a line of coaches would be laid on from that place to Mudgee, proving a successful competitor with the railway. Mr. Toddhunter said that the Mudgee people were in a worse position than ever. Letters written in Sydney on a Saturday were not received in Mudgee until the Tuesday morning, there being no train running on Sunday. Mr. Brown said he was told that trains could be run during the night-time if they only went at a little slower speed, and they might leave the station a little earlier to make up for the slower speed.

Mr. WRIGHT said that in this matter, as in all similar matters, he would do what was best for the public. Some time ago his attention had been directed to the dangerous nature of this line, and under the circumstances he could not agree to the running of passenger trains at night-time. He had received a minute on the subject of this line in which the engineer pointed out that from the rotten nature of this country slips might be expected, and would likely occur, more particularly in wet weather. The minute pointed out that if the passenger train left Mudgee about 8 a.m. it would reach Wallerawang in time to catch the train from Orange to Sydney, and the down train from Sydney would reach Mudgee before dark. That would avoid the necessity of a night staff. As to the difficulty of the mails, he would run them by goods train only, but on no account whatever would he run passenger trains at night. These arrangements would give the greatest satisfaction to the travelling public, and would reduce to a minimum the great liability to accident. The men employed in the permanent way could inspect the line before the first train started from Mudgee in the morning, and immediately before the last train started over the line for Wallerawang in the evening. That was the effect of the minute made by Mr. Whitton before the alteration of which they complained took place. He believed the travelling public, outside of business, would prefer travelling by day. He attached great importance to what Mr. Whitton said, and, in face of what he said, felt that he would not be justified in travelling passenger trains at night. He would consult the Commissioners to ascertain whether a goods train could not carry the mails during the night. Probably that could be done, and he would see if it were practicable.

RAILWAY TO BREWARRINA.

Yesterday, a deputation waited on the Minister for Works, to urge the construction of a railway from Byerock to Brewarrina. The deputation consisted of Messrs. Russell Barton, Hammond, W. J. Fergusson, Machattie, Fergusson, T. R. Smith, and Cass, Ms.L.A.; Sawers, Rich, T. L. Richardson, Donkin, Willis, Bacon, Miller, and Jamieson; and the business was introduced by Mr. Barton, who said that on a former occasion the Minister had given a sort of promise to a deputation that this line should be constructed, but they thought the promise was not distinct enough. If the present Minister gave a distinct promise it would assist them materially in asking another Ministry to give them this line if the present Government went out of office before the work was done. He presented a very numerously signed petition in favour of the construction of the line. The petition set forth that Brewarrina was situated about 500 miles from Sydney and 100 miles from the Queensland border, and was the centre of one of the largest and most important pastoral districts in the colony. The district contains 44 sheep stations within an average distance of 72 miles, carrying over 3,500,000 sheep; and 15 cattle stations within an average distance of 61 miles, carrying over 130,000 head of cattle, the quantity of wool represented being 36,000 bales annually, and 1,000,000 fat sheep available for Sydney markets; besides 30,000 cattle, and a large number of horses. The revenue during the last six months, in the face of the severe season, was at the rate of £6879 per annum, an increase of nearly 200 per cent. since July 31, 1877, the date of the establishment of the Custom House there. During the last five years a large trade had been established between Brewarrina and the south-west districts of Queensland, which would be largely increased by the construction of a railway, Brewarrina being the natural outlet. It was anticipated that the trade of that portion of Queensland would amount to 28,000 tons of merchandise, the profit on which would more than pay the interest on the cost of construction, independently of the revenue from the export of wool, stock, &c. Owing to the present difficulties of carriage the bulk of the trade had gone through Victoria and South Australia. The length of the proposed line is 60 miles, and from the survey it had been shown that there were no engineering difficulties, and that the line could be constructed cheaper than any yet made in the colony. Mr. Cass, M.L.A., said that he had waited on the Minister on the former occasion with the deputation which asked for this railway, but was more than ever convinced that the line would be a payable one, as Brewarrina was the centre of a rich country, besides which the line would probably bring a great deal of the Queensland trade to Sydney. Mr. Hammond, M.L.A., also supported the request of the petition, and Mr. Miller quoted the figures set forth in the petition in favour of the construction of the line, and to show the great and growing importance of Brewarrina. Mr. Donkin recommended the construction of the railway on two grounds—(1) Because it would tap a district almost as large and quite as valuable as the Bourke district; and (2) because the railway could be made over level country, at a minimum rate. Other members of the deputation also spoke in favour of the object of the deputation.

Mr. WRIGHT, in reply, said that some time ago a deputation from Brewarrina waited on him to ask for this very railway, and he promised them that when he submitted a scheme for branch lines of railway, Brewarrina should be included in that scheme. Mr. Barton, in introducing the deputation, had said that the promise was not a satisfactory one, and wanted something further; but he (Mr. Wright) was not prepared to make any fuller promise than that. During the next session of Parliament the Government would not submit any railway proposals, and whatever might be done next, nothing would be done this year in the direction of more railway proposals, the present proposals being sufficient to absorb all the labour in the colony. He could not make any further promise than he had done. It was a very fine district, he knew, and very likely a railway would be made there; but it would not be so cheaply constructed as they argued. He had been told by the gentleman who surveyed the line that it would be rather an expensive line for a cheap railway, and not constructed for £2000 or £3000 per mile, one portion of it requiring to be built on piles. He again promised them that whenever he submitted another proposal to Parliament, if he remained in office long enough to do so, the proposal would be for branch lines, and Brewarrina would be included in it.

NOTES EXPLANATORY OF MAP.

In the list of stations the column headed W.T. gives the state of the weather at 9 a.m., b standing for blue sky; c, detached clouds; d, drizzling rain; f, fog; g, gloomy; m, misty; o, overcast; p, passing showers; r, rain; t, thunder; u, threatening. The next column, M's gives the maximum temperature for previous 24 hours, M'n the corresponding minimum temperature; R'n the rain for the previous 24 hours. The symbols used in the map are explained in the centre of it. At each coast station the wind symbol is placed like a vane pointing to the direction from which the wind is coming. A clear circle with it means fine weather; a circle with bar, cloudy weather; and a black spot, raining. Next to this symbol are placed figures denoting the number of miles the wind is moving per hour; next, a symbol showing the state of the sea; and, lastly, figures denoting the shade temperature at 9 a.m. The barometer curve shows the state of barometers round the coast from Perth to Cooktown:—Pt, Perth; Ay, Albany; E, Eucla; CB, Cape Borda; A, Adelaide; Ro, Robe; P, Portland; M, Melbourne; W P, Wilson's Promontory; Go, Gabo; E, Eden; Ma, Moruya; G G, Jervis Bay; Wg, Wollongong; S, Sydney; N, Newcastle; P M, Port Macquarie; C, Clarence River; B, Brisbane; R, Rockhampton; Ct, Cooktown. Inland the state of barometer is given in figures at Albury, Deniliquin, Wentworth, Bourke, and Alice Springs. The barometer curve enables one at a glance to trace the depressions, beginning in Western Australia, and passing along eastwards; northerly winds preceding them and southerly following.

OUR BRISBANE LETTER.

BRISBANE, March 30.

I need hardly say that the Hanlan and Beach match caused almost as much excitement here as with you. Judging by the dimensions of the crowds in the street on Saturday night, one would have thought that the Russians had declared war, and that their cruisers were outside in Moreton Bay.

Sir Thomas M'Ilwraith was not to be "drawn" on the Separation question at Townsville last Tuesday. The banquet given to him was a representative one in a certain sense, that is, the list of guests included gentlemen who belonged to all classes in the community, but they were all men of means, as the tickets were two guineas each. I need hardly remind you that in a colony like this political events are not decided by men who can pay two guineas for a dinner ticket. Of course the company was enthusiastically M'Ilwraithian, and as enthusiastically separationist. The opposition to Mr. Griffith in Townsville has been rendered more keen by the fact that he has taken every possible opportunity of marking his displeasure with Mr. Philp, of Burns, Philp, and Co., one of the principal firms of the city. It is no secret that the Premier believes Mr. Philp guilty of trying to hush up the Hopeful case, and has taken several public steps to show his displeasure. In a small place like Townsville the embittered animosity of a prominent and popular citizen would go far in giving force to a partizan demonstration against the politician who was the subject of that animosity. Townsville is of course separationist, because it would inevitably be the capital of a new northern colony. Sir Thomas told his hearers that they would have to make up their own minds as to what they wanted, and to bring the question within the range of practical politics before he would give them an opinion on it. The point upon which the leader of the Opposition chiefly insisted was the danger of the financial situation. It is clear to everyone that whatever good it may do, the new Land Act is not likely to prove a financial success for some time. The whole scheme of the Act demands careful examination beforehand of the land to be offered, and it is physically impossible to do this quickly with our limited staff of surveyors. If the necessities of the Treasury lead to hasty and slurred examination, the last state of our land administration will be worse than the first.

Some land has at last been thrown open to lease. It consists, I believe, of selections which have been forfeited for various reasons, and the list of farms includes some areas in most of the districts of the colony. These farms, having been already marked out, lay ready to the hand of the department, which had only to estimate the value of the land. Most of it has been classed as agricultural, the yearly rents fixed range from 3d. to 2s., and the purchase price from £1 to £5 per acre, the higher figures applying only to one or two farms. According to our new law, land classed as agricultural is let at a certain annual rent and a certain fixed price per acre. The definite lease is not issued until the selector has fulfilled certain conditions, but for 10 years after its issue the rent remains unchanged. When the lease has been held for 10 years—it may pass from hand to hand by purchase or transfer—the holder has the option either of buying at the price originally fixed, or of continuing to hold as a tenant. The full term of the lease is 50 years from the date of issue; but after 10 years the land can be bought. The rent after 10 years is to be raised every five years at the discretion of the land board, and the purchasing price raised proportionately. I have not heard how the people in the districts affected like the terms on which the farms have been offered, with the exception of the Darling Downs. There a good deal of indignation has been excited by the high terms asked. It was the fashion just before the fall of the late Government to denounce its members for having asked too high rates for some of the good land near Warwick. It was alleged that farmers could not pay the price and live, and some members of the new Ministry spoke sympathetically to the complainants. Now the land board, throwing open selections of the same kind, ask prices quite as high. The truth is that selectors have so accustomed themselves to look for a profit by taking up land at far below its market value, and then selling it when they had completed conditions, that they regard every impediment to the operation as a grievance.

In due accord with the spirit of the time much of our thought and attention is now directed to military affairs. Our little defence force went into camp at Lytton, at the mouth of the river to-day; and as they remain there for fully eight days, it is hoped some really effective training may be imparted. Corps from Ipswich, Toowoomba, and Warwick, as well as from Maryborough and Gympie, will co-operate with the metropolitan forces; and this year we shall for the first time bring into service the nucleus of a regular paid military force. Our permanent artillery number at present not more than 40 men, and they have been sent down during the week to prepare for the citizen soldiers who are to follow. Seeing that the new Defence Act has been but a few months in operation, we cannot reasonably expect much of the encampment this year; but the preparations are being made in a prompt business-like fashion, and it is quite possible the result may surpass some of the efforts of former years. This year for the first time we shall have some attempt at naval operations, and as our new gunboat has just arrived, she, together with the torpedo boat Mosquito, will be pressed into the service to represent a hostile force attacking the approaches to the city. We have now a naval brigade of 100 men recruited from among those who have gained their livelihood on the sea, and many of whom have served on board men-of-war; and 80 of these have turned out, attracting general admiration by their smart workmanlike appearance. I notice a suggestion in one of the Melbourne papers for combined action on the part of the different colonies in carrying out the Easter Encampments, and though our want of railway communication would prevent our taking part in such a combination at present, there is no doubt that in years to come, when communication is better, such a movement would be very popular, and would tend to the advantage of all the forces taking part therein.

Following upon the declaration that Sydney is now a clean port so far as smallpox is concerned, our Government have removed the proclamation compelling masters of intercolonial steamers to wait at the mouth of the river until passed by the health officer. This did not come in time, however, to prevent Captain Morris, of the Q.S.S. Company's steamer Archer, being fined for a breach of the regulations. It appears that the Archer left Sydney after the New South Wales proclamation regarding the health of the port had been issued, and arriving at the mouth of the river at 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning, and meeting no opposition, he took it for granted that the Queensland Government had removed the now unnecessary restriction, and came up to town. Here he soon became aware of his position, and last Saturday morning he was fined the minimum penalty of £50 for a breach of the Quarantine Act.

Outsiders must think our Brisbane merchants very slow in combining for mutual advantage, for while there is a Chamber of Commerce in every other Australian capital, and in many of the secondary towns as well, Brisbane has for a long time been virtually without this advantage, which is enjoyed at the present time by Maryborough, Rockhampton, and Townsville. However, we have now an Exchange started by a joint stock company comprising some 35 or 40 business men, and we may hope that before long the necessity of a chamber to represent the commercial interests of the city will force itself upon us in such a way as to take no denial.

A few weeks ago we had the matter of fraudulent cheques brought prominently before us, quite a number of tradesmen having been victimised by persons presenting valueless cheques for a few pounds in payment for goods, and taking off the goods plus a small sum by way of change. The industry has undergone a new development this week, when a coloured man, representing himself as a person of some means, called in succession upon no less than three medical men, obtained their professional assistance, and tendered in payment of their fee of a guinea cheques for something less than £4 in each case. Upon receiving the change he walked out, leaving the unfortunate doctor to discover that the cheque was valueless and that he had been defrauded of both time and money. The persistence with which he confined himself to the one profession led to his downfall, for at length he called upon a medical man who had heard of the little trick before, and detaining his would-be plunderer for a few minutes, he quietly handed him over to the police.

On Thursday morning last there passed away from our midst Mr. Justice Pring, one of the oldest of our public men. He sat in the first Queensland Ministry under Mr. R. G. W. Herbert, and was for many years the leading criminal barrister of the colony. Many of the older residents of New South Wales will doubtless remember Mr. Ratcliffe Pring, for he arrived in Sydney in 1853, and practised for some time in the Bathurst, Goulburn, and Moreton Bay circuits, being appointed four years later to the office of Crown Prosecutor for what was then the Northern Supreme Court of New South Wales. His political career, though a long and varied one, can scarcely be regarded as successful; but some years ago he undertook and completed the first compilation of Queensland statutes ever made, though this work is now out of date in consequence of the steady growth of legislation. He was appointed Puisne Judge on the death of Mr. Justice Lutwyche five years ago, though for the last 12 months the illness that has proved fatal has prevented his fulfilling the duties of his office. The late Judge at one time took a very active interest in sporting matters, and was the owner of several racehorses. It is generally understood that the vacancy will be offered in the first instance to the Hon. J. F. Garrick, Q.C., our present Agent-General; but there is considerable doubt as to his acceptance of the office. The attractions of English society under the advantages offered by his official position may, though he only holds the position temporarily, prove too strong for him, and in that case there is but little doubt that the vacant seat on the Bench will be offered to Mr. P. Real, a gentleman who has risen to one of the highest positions in his profession by force of talent and real hard work, having had very few of the advantages enjoyed in early life by most of his compeers. Judge Paul, of the Southern District Court, who acted as Judge of the Northern Supreme Court for some time with every credit, is also mentioned as a probable successor to the late Judge. In this connection may be mentioned another piece of patronage which has fallen into the hands of the Government. This latter was owing to the resignation through ill-health of Mr. J. Keane, the Under-Secretary to the Attorney-General. His place has been supplied by Mr. W. Crompton, M.A., who had previously been admitted to the Bar, but who has been engaged for the past ten years as second master in the Brisbane Grammar School.

We have two theatrical companies playing here at present to moderate business, one in the Theatre Royal starred by Miss Marian Willis, and playing chiefly sensational pieces; the other at the Academy of Music, where Miss Eloise Juno, an actress of considerable ability according to the critics, is supported by a company not quite up to her standard. Her repertoire is largely composed of Scotch pieces.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The following extracts from the English and Continental press we take from files received up to February 20:—

ENGLAND, GERMANY, AND NEW GUINEA.

Berlin, February 18.—Herr Krauel, German Consul-General, who will act as the German Commissioner in the approaching negotiations for the adjustment of the differences between England and Germany in reference to the South Sea Islands, New Guinea, and Fiji, has left for London. It is expected that the negotiations will for the most part be conducted on the basis of the Pro Memoria appended to the German note to Earl Granville of August 2, 1884. In this Pro Memoria Germany expressed a wish to come to an understanding with England upon the geographical definition of the territory in which each Power had interests. Germany desired further that the subjects of both States should be guaranteed in the enjoyment of their justly acquired rights; that the principle of equality should be observed in all questions connected with liberty of commerce, navigation, and settlement; and, finally, that an understanding should be arrived at regarding the exercise of a joint or uniform control of the labour traffic.

A FENIAN WARNING TO THE CABINET.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says:—"Another meeting of delegates to the coming Irish National Convention has been held, at which it was decided to imitate the Nihilists by establishing a press and a fount of printing type in Paris, for the printing of manifestoes and other revolutionary proclamations. I give you the first fruits of this new enterprise in the form of a proclamation, copies of which have been sent to Mr. Gladstone and the other members of the Cabinet. It is headed, 'A Warning issued from the office of the Dynamite Section of the Irish Revolutionary party in Paris, February 17, 1885. To the British Cabinet. We, the representatives of the extreme section of the Irish Revolutionary party, in council assembled, hereby give you notice that if during the ensuing session of the British Parliament the Crimes Act (Ireland) Bill, which we consider a most unjustifiable measure, be renewed, we have resolved to take retaliatory proceedings through the medium of the resources of civilisation.—By order of the executive.'"

THE FRENCH IN CHINA—EXTRAORDINARY STATEMENTS.

A correspondent of the Times, telegraphing from Taiwan (via Colombo) on the 28th ultimo, communicates the following remarkable account of the proceedings of the French:—"Since the 5th instant the French have been constantly engaged in the destruction of small craft, not only of junks from the mainland—which might be carrying contraband of war—but of fishing and trading craft, boats carrying firewood, manure, peanuts, and charcoal. In fact, the hundred and one forms of smallcraft used by the Chinese to gain an honest livelihood have been shot, shelled, blown up, burned, torpedoed, sunk, or scuttled along the coasts. The survivors of their crews have been kidnapped and sent to Keelung to work the batteries. We have seen three mighty ships, among them the Triomphante, pursuing a little junk laden with dried fish, firing big guns and round after round from the machine-guns in the tops at the poor junk-men. Hundreds of junks have been thus destroyed, and the greatest misery has resulted. The Chinese are greatly exasperated, and their ill-feeling extends to the English, whose colony of Hongkong is allowed to form the French base for such warfare. Our position is rendered extremely dangerous. There is no word of exaggeration in all this. The Chinese troops attacked the French lines at Keelung on the 10th instant, but were repulsed. During the fight a number of the kidnapped boatmen broke loose. Many of them were shot; but over 60 escaped, and some reached their homes overland. One of these men was wounded. He says that he was not badly treated on board of the French ship, except that his pigtail was cut off; but at Keelung the prisoners were driven like dogs and made to carry sand and earth to the batteries. They received no food except what the Annamese coolies chose to give them, and had no water when it did not rain. Numbers of them through illness were unable to work. The French soldiers then stuck bayonets into them to make them move, and if that failed the sufferers were shot. While there our informant saw 17 shot—some through the forehead, some through the ear, some through the breast. His own brother and cousin were shot. They were captured with him, and had done nothing except that they were unable to work from want of food. He swears that all this is true. The work of destruction proceeds only by day, while at night the foreign blockade-runners and big junks from the mainland have landed large numbers of troops and every kind of munitions of war."

LORD WOLSELEY'S PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

The Pall Mall Gazette thus describes Lord Wolseley's plans as they were at the time of writing:—As much misunderstanding seems to prevail in some quarters concerning the probable course of the campaign now in progress in the Soudan, it may be as well to state the leading outlines of Lord Wolseley's plan of campaign.

Lord Wolseley at present is at Korti. His left column under General Brackenbury is now on its way to Abu Hamed at the northern elbow of the Nile, and about 100 miles from Berber, which is the present objective of our army.

General Redvers Buller is now at Gubat, and although a telegram was published yesterday from Korti that Metemmeh was to be captured to-morrow, it is probable that the attack has already been delivered, and Metemmeh, it is believed, is now in our hands.

If General Gordon had been believed to be still holding out in Khartoum, an attempt would have been made from Metemmeh as a base to open up communications with the beleaguered general. As, however, it is held that there is no doubt as to the authenticity of the news of his death, Khartoum will not be immediately attacked. Instead of advancing from Metemmeh to Khartoum, General Redvers Buller, leaving a strong post at Metemmeh, will march down the river towards Berber, from which he is about the same distance as General Brackenbury, Lord Wolseley's idea being to concentrate the bulk of his force at Berber, which will be simultaneously attacked from the north and south.

When Berber is captured the bulk of the army will spend the summer there, pending the opening up of the Berber-Suakim route, by which it can retreat, in case the Cabinet changes its mind, or can be reinforced if the advocates of retirement fail to carry the day.

When Berber is taken, the route across the Bayuda desert will be abandoned, Gakdul being possibly held as an advanced post from Korti.

Metemmeh will probably be held, and communication maintained between Berber and Metemmeh by Gordon's two surviving steamers. General Wolseley for the present remains at Korti, where he can be in immediate communication with the Government at home.

The force being hurried out to Suakim will probably not advance very far on the Berber road. Its work will be accomplished when Osman Digna has been smashed and the road to Berber opened. But the majority of the troops composing the expedition will return after Osman Digna has been disposed of, nor will any attempt be made to push the Guards through to Berber in the summer.

The railway from Suakim to Berber will be pushed forward as rapidly as possibly, the rails being laid under the protection of Indian troops. We have not yet heard whether it is decided that the railway should be made by the Government or by contractors under the Government.

A very widespread feeling exists in favour of making a last effort to convince the tribes that we are not waging a crusade against their religion, nor do we propose to interfere with their liberties further than is necessary to suppress the slave trade and maintain the trade route of the Nile. Whether the Sultan would consent to place his influence at the disposal of those who seek to avert bloodshed in this matter is not yet known.

THE COLONIES AND THE SOUDAN CAMPAIGN.

At the Empire Club, on February 18, on the occasion of a dinner given to Rear-Admiral Crawford Wilson, the chairman (Lord Bury), in proposing "The Health of the Queen," announced, amidst cheers, that her Majesty had only a few hours before telegraphed to a distant dependency of her empire (New South Wales), not only her acceptance but her thanks for the kindly offer which had been made of material assistance in a war which, he remarked, had come upon the Empire by slow degrees, but which had assumed proportions that nobody anticipated. When the situation was publicly known to be serious, then our colonial friends found what members of the Empire Club always knew, but what people outside were now rapidly learning—namely, that "blood was thicker than water." The Queen, with that electric intelligence which distinguished her Majesty, had written, through the Secretary of State, to a member of the Empire Club (Sir Saul Samuel, who was seated on the chairman's left), conveying her thanks for the readiness with which the ends of her Empire had come to her assistance, and intimating her cordial acceptance and appreciation of the ready and welcome aid thus offered. In proposing a subsequent toast, Lord Bury referred with gratification to the fact that from Canada, on the one hand, and from three colonial Australian dependencies on the other, there had been received in this country offers of material assistance in the Soudan—a fact which proved that "Britain one Empire," the motto of the Empire Club, was un fait accompli. In responding to the toast of his health Admiral Wilson observed that a heavy cloud was hanging over the whole Empire, and that the present was a critical time for England. At that moment, to his great joy, one of the first colonies to come forward to offer her material assistance to the mother country, unsolicited and uninvited, was New South Wales. (Cheers, and cries of "Bravo.") His pleasure was all the more intense because he had long been associated with that dependency. He believed that not only the colonies generally, but all English-speaking races, would be ready to come to the front if need be, and lend a helping hand to England in resisting her foreign foes: for he was convinced that as long as blood was thicker than water, so long would English races cling and act together for the welfare of the mother-country no less than for their own. (Cheers.) Sir Saul Samuel, in proposing another toast, said the spontaneous action of the colonies in offering to aid England in its Egyptian operations was a fulfilment of his prediction, some weeks back, that our dependencies were ready to come forward with their last man and their last penny whenever any danger imperilled England. (Cheers.)

THE ITALIAN EXPEDITIONS.

The more or less official announcement that a third Italian expedition to the Red Sea was about to start included a paragraph stating that, inasmuch as the force on its way and under orders was considered sufficient, no other detachment would be sent out. The Piccolo of Naples affirms, however, that a fourth expedition is being prepared to embark on board of the Citta di Napoli and Citta di Genoa transports, which are to be escorted as far as Port Said by the Dandolo ironclad. The Pungolo of Naples says that the troops on the Red Sea coast are to be augmented to 8000 men, that the garrison of Massowa is to be 4000 strong, and that a naval division, composed of three ironclads and two despatch-boats, is to remain for some time in the Red Sea. According to the Piccolo, the garrison at Massowa is to be increased to 5000 men, with 21 pieces of cannon. A squadron of three torpedo-boats—the Canopo, the Centauro, and the Pegaso—under the command of Lieutenant de Libero, on board the Canopo, is also preparing to leave for the Red Sea, accompanied by the transport Count Cavour, which will carry the supply of the requisite material for their use, together with a number of fixed torpedoes for submarine defences.

THE WEST AFRICAN CONFERENCE.

The Berlin correspondent of the Times announces what is probably the most solid result of the West African Conference—namely, the final settlement of the various territorial claims to the lower portion of the Congo. He says:—"France and the International Association had already come to an understanding on this head, and now a similar delimitation convention has at last been signed here by Portugal and the association. The conference was only kept waiting by the obstinacy of the Lisbon Cabinet, which seemed resolved to have its own selfish way in respect to the Lower Congo; but, after various gentler remedies in the nature of douce violence had been vainly employed by the Powers interested in the success of King Leopold's undertaking, the Portuguese Government was at last induced to give way, under the pressure of identical notes from France, England, and Germany, delivered at Lisbon a few days ago. And now it has made such concessions to the association as will enable the latter to begin its career as the Congo Free State, with a necessary extent of seaboard, and a fair prospect of continued existence. By the convention which has just been signed, Portugal gets all the south or left bank of the Congo up to and including Nokki, whence the frontier strikes straight eastward, ending at the Kuango. North of the river, on the other hand, her territory is limited to the district around Massabe, Landana, Malembo, and Kabinda, and extending about 40 miles inland—all the rest of the region south of the French frontier falling to the association, which thus has free and undivided possession of the tract on the right bank of the river from Manyanga down to Banana Point, together with the Atlantic coast, about 40 miles in length, up to Red Point."

THE WILLCOX and GIBBS AUTOMATIC SILENT SEWING MACHINE.

LADIES careful of HEALTH and appreciating the BEST should have no other.

HEBBLEWHITE and CO., 416, George-street, Sydney.

WHY DO YOU CALL IT THE AUTOMATIC? Because the wonderful and simply-contrived self-adjusting tension does away with all regulating by the operator. The reel of cotton, just as you bought it, is placed on the spool pin, and the thread simply passed under the tension, which rises automatically once for every stitch. This releases just enough thread, and draws in the slack, so as to leave the stitch neither too tight or too loose, no matter what material you change to or what size cotton you use. No wonder, then, this machine is such a favourite with all who use it.

HEBBLEWHITE and CO., 416, George-street, 4 doors north of Royal Hotel, Depot for Household Requisites.

Businesses for Sale.

ELM COURT, MOSS VALE.

TRANSFER OF LEASE and SALE OF FURNITURE, &c., &c.

The LEASE (having 5 years to run) of this elegant and commodious mansion, and the whole of the Household Furniture, Bed and Table Linen, Earthenware, Plate, Glass, Utensils, Stores on hand, Cattle, Pigs, Fowls, and Horses now on the premises, are offered for SALE by the present tenant, Mrs. DONNELLY, who is compelled, under medical advice, to relinquish business on account of failing health.

ELM COURT HOUSE was built in 1879, in the most substantial manner, of brick on massive stone foundations, in the form of a quadrangle. It has three distinct courts and spacious verandahs all round the building. Including the two detached cottages, there are 32 sitting-rooms, dining-rooms, and bedrooms, besides servants' hall, 2 kitchens, scullery, pantry, storeroom, dairy, larder, 6 bathrooms (hot and cold), &c., &c., all fitted-up and furnished in the most suitable and substantial manner, with all modern conveniences and improvements.

The out-offices consist of—2 detached cottages, laundry and washhouse, 4-stall stable, 3 coachhouses, harness-room, hayloft, fowlhouse, garden-house, pumphouse, cowhouse, coalshed, &c., &c.

The establishment has a never-failing supply of the purest rain water in all seasons, stored in brick and iron tanks capable of containing 70,000 gallons. There is besides a large and constant supply of good water for stock and garden purposes in "Waite's Creek," which runs through the property.

The house is situated on a pretty hill (commanding extensive views of the surrounding landscape), opposite to and only three minutes' walk from the Moss Vale railway station, on the Great Southern line; distant 85 miles from Sydney, and 2200 feet above the sea level. The grounds comprised in the lease extend to nearly 20 acres, divided into grass paddocks, lawn tennis court, gardens, shrubberies, and plantations, the latter chiefly of English trees and shrubs, which grow luxuriantly in the rich soil and cool climate of this district.

During the last seven years this establishment has been most successfully conducted as a first-class boarding-house, having now a large and influential connection of visitors all the year round. But in order to fully utilise its capabilities and to supply an admitted want, Mrs. Donnelly has received the permission of the proprietors to state that her assignee and successor may conduct the house for the future as for which it is admirably adapted on account of its position, accommodation, and surroundings.

The rapidly increasing township of Moss Vale is the capital and centre of the richest and most populous dairy and agricultural districts of the colony, which chiefly supplies Sydney daily with milk, butter, eggs, poultry, &c., &c. It is situated on the highest point of the table land between Sydney and Melbourne, and is possessed of the most salubrious climate in Australia, being mild in winter and cool and bracing in summer, with a rainfall nearly equal to Sydney. It is within a short distance of the summer residence of his Excellency the Governor of the colony, and has daily communication by coach with Shoalhaven and other coast districts through the gorges and picturesque scenery of the far-famed Illawarra mountains.

For further particulars applications may be made to Mrs. DONNELLY, Elm Court; or to her Agents,

comprising 110 allotments, 17 of which have frontages to the main road, and 162 to New-street (66 feet wide).
This estate comprises that elevated gently sloping block of land on the western side of the main road, adjoining the Public School, and is within a short walk (along the main road) of the railway station.
From the main road frontages views of the ocean, Botany Bay, and the south-eastern suburbs are obtainable.
The feature of this subdivision as compared with any previous ones in this district is, that EVERY LOT HAS A 20-FEET WIDE LANE AT REAR.
The frontages are mainly 20 feet, and as buyers will have the option of taking several consecutive lots, all classes of buyers can be accommodated.
The elevation, fertility of soil, and other advantages which Hurstville possesses must speedily attract to it a large population.
The present vendors have had this estate for some considerable time, and they are therefore in a position to sell at prices which are now asked for large areas.
THE TITLE IS FIRST-CLASS FREEHOLD.

Yours, truly,
